Beyond the Frustrated Self Barbara Dowds, 2018-05-11 This book foregrounds the life struggles of an individual Brenda in such a way that argument and theoretical exploration arise organically out of experience The frustration of the title is traced to avoidant attachment pretending not to need others In Brenda this is associated with a body energy pattern that is both over charged and over contained generating a self frustrating process Such a repressive defence works against her so that she experiences her life as dry soulless and uncreative A variety of existential difficulties are traced to how such core developmental issues interact with our socio cultural environment A way forward is outlined play and finding meaning are identified as transformational hubs that bring wellbeing into Brenda s life and restore her capacity for experiencing

Depression and the Erosion of the Self in Late Modernity Barbara Dowds, 2018-04-19 Depression is not a disease of the brain a genetic disability or even a mood disorder Rather shutdown numbness or sadness are non pathological adaptations to adverse childhood and adult environments This challenging book thus understands depression as a wise response to an unliveable situation It can teach us what is wrong with our lives and what we must learn in order to go beyond symptom relief and reconnect to our most fundamental needs relational existential and spiritual Because moods shape how we engage with our outer and inner worlds they underlie all human behaviour If the sociocultural world is toxic or frustrates our core needs we will withdraw to protect ourselves Those who have encountered a non facilitating environment in childhood will be even more sensitive to adult stresses since their self organisation is fragile and non resilient As depression is so complex understanding it demands an integrative approach
