Storytelling to Accelerate Climate Solutions Emily Coren, Hua Wang, 2024-05-27 The climate is changing faster than our cultural practices are adapting to it This Open Access volume co edited by Emily Coren a science communicator and Hua Wang a communication scientist presents a survey of the latest in agency focused climate storytelling Together practitioners and scholars across different fields shared their knowledge experience and insight about how stories can be designed and told to engage enable and empower individuals and communities in climate communication and action You will learn a wide range of narrative strategies and exemplary applications of climate storytelling in terms of professional practices e g education literature journalism popular media genres and formats e g drama comedy fiction media platforms e g television radio mobile and communication modalities e g text visual audio multisensory Entertainment education has been proven over decades to be an effective tool for social and behavior change in the public health sphere and has not yet been applied at scale to the massive ongoing climate related disasters that we need to solve now fast There is an urgent need to rapidly apply and adapt public engagement tools for climate communication to speed up our response times for climate change mitigation and adaptation This book takes a snapshot of where climate storytelling is currently at describes where it fits within a climate communication landscape and supports the next steps of its development It facilitates the of creation climate storytelling efficiently by sharing and amplifying what is working well and building collaborations between practitioners and researchers This is an open access book

Social Media at BBC News Valerie Belair-Gagnon, 2015-02-11 Since the emergence of social media in the journalistic landscape the BBC has sought to produce reporting more connected to its audience while retaining its authority as a public broadcaster in crisis reporting Using empirical analysis of crisis news production at the BBC this book shows that the emergence of social media at the BBC and the need to manage this kind of material led to a new media logic in which tech savvy journalists take on a new centrality in the newsroom In this changed context the politico economic and socio cultural logic have led to a more connected newsroom involving this new breed of journalists and BBC audience This examination of news production events shows that in the midst of transformations in journalistic practices and norms including newsgathering sourcing distribution and impartiality the BBC has reasserted its authority as a public broadcaster Click here for a short video about the book

Disappearing Destinations Andrew L. Jones, Michael R. Phillips, M. Phillips, 2011 Current climatic and environmental trends mean that a large number of important coastal destinations across the globe are under threat of change or gradual disappearance Many of these locations are also significant tourist destinations such as the Great Barrier Reef the Everglades National Park or large swathes of the Mediterranean basin Tourism activity both exacerbates the problem and highlights the importance of protecting these often fragile environments This book discusses threats to and consequences of tourism growth and the impacts of climate change on such coastal zones It examines policy initiatives local and national options for managing the potential crisis and recommends steps and management options towards ameliorating projected impacts on coastal tourism infrastructure This is an important book for researchers and students of leisure and tourism land use planning environmental and coastal management and all those interested in and working with the environment conservation and sustainability Communicating Climate Science - HC 254 Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Select Committee on Science and Technology, Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee, Andrew Miller, 2014-04-02 The Government is failing to clearly and effectively communicate climate science to the public There is little evidence of co ordination amongst Government government agencies and public bodies on communicating climate science despite various policies at national and regional level to mitigate and adapt to climate change The mandate to act on climate can only be maintained if the electorate are convinced that the Government is acting on the basis of strong scientific evidence Ministers therefore need to do more to demonstrate that is the case and consistently reflect the Government approach in all their communications especially with the media The report also criticises the BBC for its reporting on the issue It points out that BBC News teams continue to make mistakes in their coverage of climate science by giving opinions and scientific fact the same weight The BBC is called to develop clear editorial guidelines for all commentators and presenters on the facts of climate that should be used to challenge statements from either side of the climate policy debate that stray too far from the scientific facts It is important that climate science is presented separately from any subsequent policy response Government should work with the learned societies and national academies to develop a source of information on climate science that is discrete from policy delivery comprehensible to the general public and responsive to both current developments and uncertainties in the science

Unjust Transition Emily Eaton, 2024-03-21T00:00:00Z In 2019 Regina s Co op Refinery Complex CRC a subsidiary of Federated Co operative locked out Unifor Local 594 after collective bargaining negotiations failed CRC used the transition to a low carbon future as the justification for concessions on working conditions and reducing the workers pension plan The lockout demonstrates what a just transition means to fossil fuel corporations rollbacks of collective bargaining worker rights cooperative spirit and environmental justice In the name of a new future Federated Co operative and the Saskatchewan government trampled all over important worker rights the right to strike and picket occupational health and safety pensions and collective bargaining It also highlights the sorry state of co operative values in Canada As corporations and governments are poised to make a transition that will be detrimental to workers and communities this books argues that solidarity between unions and community movements is absolutely necessary to make the transition away from fossil fuels a just one

New Norms and Knowledge in World Politics Preslava Stoeva, 2009-10-16 This book examines the process of norm development and knowledge creation in international politics and assesses these processes in case studies on protection from torture intellectual property rights and climate change Drawing on the theories of constructivism and the sociology of scientific knowledge author Preslava Stoeva demonstrates that international norms are a product of a sequence of closures and consensus reached at different social levels She contends that it is this process which makes norms permeate the social and political fabric of international relations even before they become official principles of state behaviour Proposing a theoretical model which indicates the stages of the development of norms she studies the roles that various actors play in that process together with the interplay of various types of power Through this endeavour this book succeeds in providing the reader with a better understanding of the social processes that lead to normative change in international relations New Norms and Knowledge in World Politics will be of interest to students scholars and practitioners of international relations comparative politics globalization sociology and anthropology

Climate Change as Social Drama Philip Smith, Nicolas Howe, 2015-05-05 Climate change is not just a scientific fact nor merely a social and political problem It is also a set of stories and characters that amount to a social drama This drama as much as hard scientific or political realities shapes perception of the problem Drs Smith and Howe use the perspective of cultural sociology and Aristotle s timeless theories about narrative and rhetoric to explore this meaningful and visible surface of climate change in the public sphere Whereas most research wants to explain barriers to awareness here we switch the agenda to look at the moments when global warming actually gets attention Chapters consider struggles over apocalyptic scenarios explain the success of Al Gore and An Inconvenient Truth unpack the deeper social meanings of the climate conference and Climategate critique failed advertising campaigns and climate art and question the much touted transformative potential of natural disasters such as Superstorm Sandy Climate Change, The Fourth Industrial Revolution and Public Pedagogies Mike Cole, 2020-10-08 Climate Change The Fourth Industrial Revolution and Public Pedagogies The Case for Ecosocialism uses public pedagogy as a theoretical lens to examine climate change emergency and presents a solution to the issue in ecosocialism The book addresses the climate s relationship with capitalism and the role of activism in highlighting the climate change emergency With respect to the Fourth Industrial Revolution Cole assesses the pro capitalist arguments that this revolution can be considered a progressive force and critiques them from a Marxist perspective A case is made for ecosocialism a form of socialism that is informed by feminism inclusivity and real democracy Ecosocialism it is argued can address climate change destruction and harness the potential fruits of the Fourth Industrial Revolution for the good of all The book ends by addressing the other great threat to civilisation alongside climate change with a postscript providing some final words of warning about the dual perils of climate change and nuclear warfare This highly topical book will be of interest to scholars postgraduate students and researchers as well as to advanced undergraduate students in the fields of environmental studies pedagogy and sociology It will also appeal to all readers who are concerned with the onward march of climate change destruction
