A Users Guide To The Millennium Essays And Reviews:

A User's Guide to the Millennium J. G. Ballard, 1997-04-15 A collection of novelist's non-fiction writings spanning more than thirty years addresses topics including the arts science literature popular culture and his own life J.G. Ballard's Politics Florian Cord, 2017-01-23 This book is the first sustained investigation of the political dimension in the work of J G Ballard A product of and reaction to the cultural socio economic moment commonly designated as the postmodern condition Ballard's oeuvre is read as a continuous and developing meditation on the postmodern examining it specifically as an expression of late capitalism The book shows that at the heart of this meditation lies the question of resistance Drawing on a wide range of concepts and ideas taken from the field of critical theory it argues that in the face of a world marked by an unprecedented expansion of capital in which modernity's grand narratives have been invalidated and in which received forms of political struggle have lost their effectiveness Ballard's fiction commits itself to a deliberately irrational and extreme pataphysical thought in order to develop a new discourse of resistance Against past readings that have construed Ballard's writing as non political decadent or quietist the study thus reveals Ballard as a thoroughly political author committed to a subversive politics In this way the book also constitutes a timely intervention in the ongoing discussion concerning the nature and state of the political A Poetics of Minds and Madness XINRAN YANG, 2023-09-26 This monograph aims to explore the mind narrative nexus by conducting a cognitive narratological study on the mad minds in fictional narratives Set on the interface of narrative and cognitive science cognitive linguistics cognitive psychology and cognitive neuropsychology it adopts an indirect empirical approach to the fictional representation of madness The American writer Ken Kesey's novel One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest is chosen as the primary text of investigation whereas due consideration is also given to other madness narratives when necessary This book not only demonstrates the value of reading and rereading literary classics in the modern era but also sheds light on the studies of cognitive narratology cognitive poetics madness narratives and literature in general The Sex Is Out of This World Sherry Ginn, Michael G. Cornelius, Donald E. Palumbo, 2012-11-08 Science fiction can be translated into real unreality More than a genre like fantasy which creates entirely new realms of possibility science fiction constructs its possibilities from what is real from what is indeed possible or conceivably so This collection then looks to understand and explore the unreal reality to note ways in which our culture's continually changing and evolving mores of sex and sexuality are reflected in dissected by and deconstructed through the genre of science fiction This book is a collection of new essays with the general objective of filling a gap in the literature about sex and science fiction although some work has gone before none of it is recent The essays herein explore the myriad ways in which authors regardless of format print film television etc envision very different beings expressing this most fundamental of human behaviors Modernity and Metropolis P. Brooker, 2001-12-17 A study of urban identity and community looks at selected twentieth century literary and film texts in the context of theorizations of modernism postmodernism postcoloniality and globalization Brooker draws on Beck and Giddens to propose a reflexive modernism which rewrites and re imagines the urban scene The principal cities considered are London and New York Tokyo Hong Kong and Bangkok Writers considered include Ezra Pound and T S Eliot Langston Hughes Hanif Kureishi Iain Sinclair Paul Auster Sarah Schulman and William Gibson Filmmakers include Patrick Keiller and Wong Kar Wai

The Psychological Fictions of J.G. Ballard Samuel Francis, 2013-06-20 J G Ballard self professedly devoured the work of Freud as a teenager and entertained early thoughts of becoming a psychiatrist he opened his novel writing career with a manifesto declaring his wish to write a science fiction exploring not outer but inner space and declaring the need for contemporary fiction to be viewed as a branch of neurology He also apparently welcomed a reader's report on Crash 1973 condemning him as beyond psychiatric help as confirming his achievement of total artistic success Samuel Francis investigates Ballard's engagement with psychology and the psychological in his fiction tracing the influence of key figures including Sigmund Freud C G Jung and R D Laing and placing his work in the context of the wider fields of psychology and psychiatry While the psychological preoccupations of his writing are very clear including his use of concepts such as the unconscious psychopathology deviance obsession abnormal psychology and schizophrenia this is the first book to offer a detailed analysis of this key conceptual and historical context for his fiction

Brian W. Aldiss Paul Kincaid, 2022-07-12 Brian W Aldiss wrote classic science fiction novels like Report on Probability A and Hothouse Billion Year Spree his groundbreaking study of the field defined the very meaning of SF and delineated its history Yet Aldiss's discomfort with being a guiding spirit of the British New Wave and his pursuit of mainstream success characterized a lifelong ambivalence toward the genre Paul Kincaid explores the many contradictions that underlay the distinctive qualities of Aldiss's writing Wartime experiences in Asia and the alienation that arose upon his return to the cold austerity of postwar Britain inspired themes and imagery that Aldiss drew upon throughout his career He wrote of prolific nature overwhelming humanity believed war was madness even though it provided him with the happiest period of his life and found parallels in the static lives of Indian peasants and hidebound English society As Kincaid shows contradictions created tensions that fueled the metaphorical underpinnings of Aldiss's work and shaped not only his long career but the evolution of postwar British science fiction

Extraterritorial Matthew Hart, 2020-08-25 The future of fiction is neither global nor national Instead Matthew Hart argues it is trending extraterritorial Extraterritorial spaces fall outside of national borders but enhance state power They cut across geography and history but do not point the way to a borderless new world They range from the United Nations headquarters and international waters to CIA black sites and the departure zones at international airports The political geography of the present Hart shows has come to resemble a patchwork of such spaces Hart reveals extraterritoriality's centrality to twenty first century art and fiction He shows how extraterritorial fictions expose the way states construct global space in their own interests Extraterritorial novels teach us not to mistake cracks or gradations in political geography for a crisis of the state Hart demonstrates how the unstable character of many twenty first century aesthetic forms can be traced to the increasingly extraterritorial nature of contemporary political geography. Discussing writers such as Margaret Atwood, J. G. Ballard, Amitav Ghosh, Chang-rae Lee, Hilary Mantel, and China Miéville, as well as artists like Hito Steyerl and Mark Wallinger, Hart combines lively critical readings of contemporary novels with historical and theoretical discussions about sovereignty, globalization, cosmopolitanism, and postcolonialism. Extraterritorial presents a new theory of literature that explains what happens when dreams of an open, connected world confront the reality of mobile, elastic, and tenacious borders.

J.G. Ballard's Surrealist Imagination Jeannette Baxter, 2016-12-05 Making the case that J. G. Ballard's fictional and non-fictional writings must be read within the framework of Surrealism, Jeannette Baxter argues for a radical revisioning of Ballard that takes account of the political and ethical dimensions of his work. Ballard's appropriation of diverse Surrealist aesthetic forms and political writings, Baxter suggests, are mobilised to contest official narratives of postwar history and culture and offer a series of counter-historical and counter-cultural critiques. Thus Ballard's work must be understood as an exercise in Surrealist historiography that is politically and ethically engaged. Placing Ballard's illustrated texts within this critical framework permits Baxter to explore the effects of photographs, drawings, and other visual symbols on the reading experience and the production of meaning. Ballard's textual spectacles raise a variety of questions about the shifting role of the reader and the function of the written text within a predominantly visual culture, while acknowledging the visual contexts of Ballard's Surrealist writings allows a very different historical picture of the author and his work to emerge.

Asian Diaspora and East-West Modernity Sheng-mei Ma, 2012-07-30 Drawing from Anglo-American, Asian-American, and Asian literature, as well as Japanese horror and manga, Chinese cinema and Internet, and the Korean Wave, Sheng-mei Ma's Asian Diaspora and East-West Modernity probes into the conjoinedness of West and East, of modernity's illusion and nothingness, of infinitude. Suspended on the stylistic tightrope between research and poetry, critical analysis and intuition, Asian Diaspora restores affect and heart to the experience of diaspora, in between East and West, at home and in exile, in attraction and attrition. Diaspora, by definition, stems as much from socioeconomic and collective displacement as it points to emotional reaction. This book thus challenges the fossilized conceptualizations in area studies, ontology, and modernism. The book's first two chapters trace the Asian pursuit of modernity into nothingness, as embodied in horror film and the gaming motif in transpacific literature and film. Chapters three through eight focus on the borderlands of East and West, the edges of humanity and meaning. Ma examines how loss occasions a revisualization of Asia in children's books, how Asian diasporic passing signifies paradoxically both born again and demise of the old self, how East turns East or the agent of self-fashioning for Anglo-America, Asia and Asian America, how the construct of bugman distinguishes modern West's and East's self-image, how the extreme human condition of non-person permeates the Korean Wave, and how manga artists are drawn to wartime Japan. The final two chapters interrogate the West's death-bound yet enlightening Orientalism in Anglo-American literature and China's own schizophrenic split evidenced in the 2008 Olympic Games.
