moment a magic moment that only the live event can create From Stage to Studio Amy Blier-Carruthers, 2025-04-21 From Stage to Studio Performances versus Recordings in Classical Music presents a cultural study of classical music making through the analysis of live and studio performances of orchestral and operatic repertoire conducted by Sir Charles Mackerras. The close listening analysis is based on detailed research into Mackerras's private collection of over 600 reel to reel and cassette tapes containing recordings of over 1 000 live performances which he conducted between the 1950s and the late 1990s. This is contextualized with evidence collected during ethnographic fieldwork observations presenting the opinions of Sir Charles' orchestral musicians from major London orchestras and opera houses with whom he was working with during the first decade of the twenty first century: Philharmonia Orchestra, the Age of Enlightenment Royal Opera House, English National Opera, and production team members working for recording industry leaders such as Decca, EMI, and Chandos. This ethnography of classical music making gives a voice to performers and music professionals, brings to light some important and heretofore hidden issues, and explores a fascinating time of intense change in the recording industry. Including consideration of ways forward for performance education and recording, this book is relevant to specialist practitioners as well as music enthusiasts interested in concert life and recording, studio habits, professional performers, recordists, music students, educators, and scholars interested in classical music.

The Memory of Sound Seán Street, 2014-06-13 This book explores the connections between sound and memory across all electronic media, with a particular focus on radio. Street explores our capacity to remember through sound and how we can help ourselves preserve a sense of self through the continuity of memory. In so doing, he analyzes how the brain is triggered by the memory of programs, songs, and individual sounds. He then examines the growing importance of sound archives, community radio, and current research using GPS technology for the history of place, as well as the potential for developing strategies to aid Alzheimer's and dementia patients through audio memory.
