

The trade card of John Jennion, 1752-57. The cartouche with the three pinnaces probably denotes the shop sign of both Jennion and his master and predecessor at the same address, John Wadley.

British Planemakers From 1700 3rd Edition:

Goodman's British Planemakers Jane Rees, 2020-02-01 This new edition of the classic reference British Planemakers from 1700 has been completely rewritten with over 200 pages of new information. Online research tools have enabled much greater insight into family connections of planemakers, family and business continuities, and the discovery of previously unknown planemakers. Confirmation that planemakers were working in the late 1600s in fact inspired the new edition's title Goodman's British Planemakers. The biographic directory covers more than 2400 planemakers and includes 2250 maker's mark illustrations. Like its predecessors, the new edition traces the development of British planemaking but far more extensively, now confirming that planemakers moved around the country to a much greater extent than previously realized and identifying several new family planemaking dynasties. The book includes chapters on the planemaking trade and its practices, descriptions and illustrations of the many types of planes and their evolution, and provincial planemaking, as well as sections on apprentice records, trade marks, and a complete index. An absolutely invaluable reference. British Planemakers from 1700 William Louis Goodman, 1993 Eighteenth-Century Woodworking Tools James M. Gaynor, 1997 Christopher Gabriel and the Tool Trade in 18th Century London 1770-1809 Jane Rees, Mark Rees, 1997-01-01 The book of Christopher Gabriel, planemaker and tool seller in London from 1770 until 1809, has fortuitously survived to give those interested in tools and trades a unique insight into a family business in late 18th century London. From this and other sources, it has been possible to draw a picture of a small but developing business in an uncommon trade: planemaker and tool seller. And to trace Gabriel's connections with other toolmakers of the time, both in London and elsewhere. Perhaps the most valuable parts of the Gabriel legacy are the two inventories of his stock that have survived and are reproduced in full in the book.

Guide to the Makers of American Wooden Planes Thomas L. Elliott, 2018-09-07 With its initial publication in 1983, A Guide to the Makers of American Wooden Planes profoundly transformed the emphasis and direction of tool collecting. After several years of meticulous research, Thomas L. Elliott has completely redesigned, revised, and expanded this fifth edition to include entries and information accumulated since the fourth edition. The heart of this guide is the alphabetical directory of plane makers and dealers. This fifth edition now includes 4590 biographical entries, 6160 imprint illustrations, 3030 wedge outlines, and over 3000 individual ratings for judging relative scarcity and value. Also included are sections providing insights helpful in buying and selling planes, an illustrated glossary of plane terms and styles, and an extensive bibliography for further research. This book is useful to both the beginner and the advanced collector, to historians and genealogists, and to all others with an interest in the subject. Fenestration Practice and Theory in Early Modern Europe Hentie Louw, 2024-06-05 This book explores the transformation of the window during the Early Modern Period in Europe. Following the Italian Renaissance, new stylistic norms for modern classical windows had to be invented. Building a new classical repertoire drew on existing traditions in fenestration as local builders throughout Europe struggled with the constraints of varying climatic conditions.

customs and physical resources in pursuit of a broader vision of an international classical revival With the Renaissance the architectural emphasis shifted towards secular design and as the classical revival gained momentum a quest for a cultured lifestyle commensurate with the new architecture increased demand for sophisticated fenestration systems in civil architecture The movement coincided with a period of dramatic climate change the so called Little Ice Age c 1450 c 1850 adding urgency to the campaign for transforming fenestration practice By the late seventeenth century Northern European builders had developed appropriate indigenous classical window forms for their respective societies functional products sophisticated enough to form the basis of new architectural styles northern classical traditions that rivalled and in some respects surpassed those created in Italy Their achievement was embodied in the two flagships of the movement the Franco Italian folding casement the French window and the English mechanical sliding window the sash window Tools Jane Rees, Mark Rees, 1999-01-01 This second edition of the Rees book provides descriptions illustrations and interesting information much hitherto unpublished on 80 categories of English tools The tools are meticulously described and include prices in English pounds Includes collecting tips toolmaker information patents and registered designs and more The Handplane Book Garrett Hack, 2003-09-15 Master the art of handplanes history technique and craftsmanship in one essential guide The Handplane Book by Garrett Hack is a richly illustrated tribute to one of woodworking s most iconic tools Published by Taunton Press this comprehensive guide covers everything from selecting and tuning handplanes to mastering their use in fine furniture making Hack blends practical instruction with historical insight tracing the evolution of handplanes from Roman times through the golden age of 19th century toolmaking With profiles of specialty planes advice on buying vintage and modern models and tips for planing technique this book is both a workshop manual and a collector s reference Whether you re a seasoned woodworker or a curious beginner The Handplane Book invites you to reclaim the romance and precision of traditional craftsmanship Tools: Working Wood in Eighteenth-century America James M. Gaynor, Nancy L. Hagedorn, 1993 Antique Tools – Unexpected Finds and Eccentric Objects Jonathan Green-Plumb, 2025-01-03 Have you ever wondered how all the wonderful objects in our museums were made The masterly use of hand tools by our ancestors would probably be at the core of the answer Often those skills and particularly the tools that were used have been left out of the limelight though Are you interested in hand tools and making objects collecting crafts and trades material culture museum studies social history folk art If the answer is yes to any one of these topics this publication may pique your curiosity In this publication various antique tools are illustrated and analysed in relation to their previous functions their cultural value as objects and why they are studied and collected Our current times are dominated by mass produced objects many being the results of computer software design and automated production lines The tools illustrated within this book may provide refreshing alternatives to this Take a closer look at these examples of craftsmanship from our collective past
