Alexander, 1986 Approaches to Planning Ernest Alexander, 1992-01-09 Evaluation in Planning E.R. Alexander, 2016-04-22 Evaluation is a critical stage in urban and regional planning and development with the consideration of alternative proposals essential for informed debate and decision Evaluation in planning has become even more important with the new paradigm attempting to integrate economic efficiency with equity sustainability and social responsibility The craft of pre development evaluation has long been influenced by Nathaniel Lichfield and in his honour this book brings together prominent researchers and practitioners to discuss evaluation in planning its conceptual foundations and subsequent development its strengths and persisting dilemmas and its best practices and their potential for improving future planning and development The chapters trace evaluation in planning from its historical origin to current applications Part one reviews the evolution of evaluation theory and practice and part two contains a selection of best practice application The final integrating chapter notes key problems and offers directions for future development in evaluation research and practice Planning Manual Charles E. Geographical Information and Planning John Stillwell, Stan Geertman, Stan Openshaw, 2013-03-09 The 1990s have seen some remarkable changes in geographical information GI provision and computer technology that have impacted on many of the activities that constitute planning in all its different forms However relatively few texts in the field of geographical information systems GIS and planning have been published since Henk Scholten and John Stillwell edited Geographical Information Systems for Urban and Regional Planning in 1990 This volume seeks to redress the balance by showing how GI of various types is being used in urban physical environmental socio economic and business planning contexts at local regional and national scales with the assistance of GIS and modelling methods and how the uses of GI and GI technologies have evolved over the last decade During this period a number of meetings took place in Europe in different locations organised initially by European Geographical Information Systems EGIS 1990 94 and more recently by the Joint European Conference and Exhibition JEC on Geographical Information 1995 97 These meetings brought together members of the GI community from across the world to discuss GI research and GIS applications One of the Special Interest Groups associated with the JEC gatherings was that on Geographical Information and Planning and several of the contributions in this book have their origins in papers presented to the group s meetings Planning in the USA J. Barry Cullingworth, Roger Caves, 2013-12-05 This extensively revised and updated fourth edition of Planning in the USA continues to provide a comprehensive introduction to the policies theory and practice of planning Outlining land use urban planning and environmental protection policies this fully illustrated book explains the nature of the planning process and the way in which policy issues are identified defined and approached This full colour edition incorporates new planning legislation and regulations at the state and federal layers of government updated discussion on current economic issues and examples of local ordinances in a variety of planning areas Key updates include a new chapter on planning and sustainability a new discussion on the role of foundations and giving to communities a discussion regarding the aftermath of Katrina in New Orleans a discussion on deindustrialization and shrinking cities a discussion on digital billboards a discussion on recent comprehensive planning efforts a discussion on land banking a discussion unfunded mandates a discussion on community character a companion website with multiple choice and fill the blank questions and test yourself glossary terms This book gives a detailed account of urbanization in the United States and reveals the problematic nature and limitations of the planning process the fallibility of experts and the difficulties facing policy makers in their search for solutions Planning in the USA is an essential book for students planners and all who are concerned with the nature of contemporary urban and environmental problems

Place-making and Urban Development Pier Carlo Palermo, Davide Ponzini, 2014-12-05 The regeneration of critical urban areas through the redesign of public space with the intense involvement of local communities seems to be the central focus of place making according to some widespread practices in academic and professional circles Recently new expertise maintains that place making could be an innovative and potentially autonomous field competing with more traditional disciplines like urban planning urban design architecture and others This book affirms that the question of making better places for people should be understood in a broader sense as a symptom of the non contingent limitations of the urban and spatial disciplines It maintains that research should not be oriented only towards new technical or merely formal solutions but rather towards the profound rethinking of disciplinary paradigms In the fields of urban planning urban design and policy making the challenge of place making provides scholars and practitioners a great opportunity for a much needed critical review Only the substantial reappraisal of long standing technical cultural institutional and social premises and perspectives can truly improve place making practices The pressing need for place making implies trespassing undue disciplinary boundaries and experimenting a place based approach that can innovate and integrate planning regulations strategic spatial visioning and urban development projects Moreover the place making challenge compels urban experts and policy makers to critically reflect upon the physical and social contexts of their interventions In this sense facing place making today is a way to renew the civic and social role of urban planning and urban design

National Strategic Planning and Practice Liaquat Hossain, 2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2001 This text explores the relationship between telecommunications strategic planning process TSPP the organization and the environment for developing an understanding of the idea of a national TSPP NTSP in Thailand The overall aim is to explore an understanding of an NTSP by providing a detailed study of the strategic planning and practices of the Thai telecom regulators during the period from 1954 to 1996 It applies the strategic planning process principles to further the understanding of NTSP in Thailand By using the SPP framework the study develops a theoretical TSPP framework for analyzing the underlying TSPP strategies within the national telecom regulators in Thailand It also seeks to illustrate the limitations of the traditional strategic planning theory when applied to NTSP From a theoretical perspective this book illustrates that a lack of formalization and consensus in Thailand s NTSP is the fundamental backlog for the successful operation of its industry

The Ashgate Research Companion to Planning Theory Patsy Healey, 2016-11-03 At a time of potentially radical changes in the ways in which humans interact with their environments through financial environmental and or social crises the raison d tre of spatial planning faces significant conceptual and empirical challenges This Companion presents a multidimensional collection of critical narratives of conceptual challenges for spatial planning The authors draw on various disciplinary traditions and theoretical frames to explore different ways of conceptualising spatial planning and the challenges it faces Through problematising planning itself the values which underpin planning and theory practice relations contributions make visible the limits of established planning theories and illustrate how by thinking about new issues or about issues in new ways spatial planning might be advanced both theoretically and practically There cannot be definitive answers to the conceptual challenges posed but the authors in this collection provoke critical questions and debates over important issues for spatial planning and its future A key question is not so much what planning theory is but what might planning theory do in times of uncertainty and complexity An underlying rationale is that planning theory and practice are intrinsically connected The Companion is presented in three linked parts issues which arise from an interactive understanding of the relations between planning ideas and the political institutional contexts in which such ideas are put to work key concepts in current theorising from mainly poststructuralist perspectives and what discussion on complexity may offer planning theory and practice
