Aspiring To Home South Asians In America Asian:

Aspiring to Home Bakirathi Mani, 2012-01-11 What does it mean to belong How are twenty first century diasporic subjects fashioning identities and communities that bind them together Aspiring to Home examines these questions with a focus on immigrants from India Pakistan and Bangladesh Advancing a theory of locality to explain the means through which immigrants of varying regional religious and linguistic backgrounds experience what it means to belong Bakirathi Mani shows how ethnicity is produced through the relationship between domestic racial formations and global movements of class and capital Aspiring to Home focuses on popular cultural works created by first and second generation South Asians from 1999 2009 including those by author Jhumpa Lahiri and filmmaker Mira Nair as well as public events such as the Miss India U S A pageant and the Broadway musical Bombay Dreams Analyzing these diverse productions through an interdisciplinary framework Mani weaves literary readings with ethnography to unravel the constraints of form and genre that shape how we read diasporic popular culture

The ^AOxford Handbook of Asian American History David K. Yoo, Eiichiro Azuma, 2016-02-01 The Oxford Handbook of Asian American History brings together 27 essays that engage the state of the field with historiographically informed but creative approaches to this diverse and vibrant area The chapters trace Asian American history from the beginning of the migration flows toward the Pacific Islands and the American continent to Japanese American incarceration and Asian American participation in World War II from the experience of exclusion violence and racism to the social and political activism of the late twentieth century The authors explore many of the key aspects of the Asian American experience including politics economy intellectual life the arts education religion labor gender family urban development and legal history

Asian American Literature in Transition, 1965-1996: Volume 3 Asha Nadkarni, Cathy J. Schlund-Vials, 2021-06-17 Asian American Literature in Transition Volume Three 1965 1996 offers a multidisciplinary perspective on the political and aesthetic stakes of what is now recognizable as an Asian American literary canon It takes as its central focus the connections among literature history and migration exploring how the formation of Asian American literary studies is necessarily inflected by demographic changes student activism the institutionalization of Asian American studies within the U S academy U S foreign policy specifically the Cold War and conflicts in Southeast Asia and the emergence of diaspora and transnationalism as important critical frames Moving through sections that consider migration and identity aesthetics and politics canon formation and transnationalism and diaspora this volume tracks predominant themes within Asian American literature to interrogate an ever evolving field It features nineteen original essays by leading scholars and is accessible to beginners in the field and more advanced researchers alike

Unseeing Empire Bakirathi Mani, 2020-10-26 In Unseeing Empire Bakirathi Mani examines how empire continues to haunt South Asian American visual cultures Weaving close readings of fine art together with archival research and ethnographic fieldwork at museums and galleries across South Asia and North America Mani outlines the visual and affective relationships between

South Asian diasporic artists their photographic work and their viewers She notes that the desire for South Asian Americans to see visual representations of themselves is rooted in the use of photography as a form of colonial documentation and surveillance She examines fine art photography by South Asian diasporic artists who employ aesthetic strategies such as duplication and alteration that run counter to viewers demands for greater visibility These works fail to deliver on viewers desires to see themselves producing instead feelings of alienation estrangement and loss These feelings Mani contends allow viewers to question their own visibility as South Asian Americans in U S public culture and to reflect on their desires to be represented

Graphic Novels and Visual Cultures in South Asia E. Varughese, Rajinder Dudrah, 2020-06-29 Graphic Novels and Visual Cultures in South Asia explores the shifting landscapes of the graphic narratives and related visual cultures scene in South Asia today This exciting volume explores the ever developing scene of graphic novels graphic narratives and related visual cultures in South Asia Covering topics such as Tamil comics material memory the politics of graphic adaptation the fandom of Ms Marvel as well as watching Pakistani social lives on Indian TV this collection of essays are testament to how visual cultures across South Asia are responding to a new world order The collection of work explores how certain visual cultures in South Asia are attempting to re shape previous modes of visuality by unpacking what it means to be living in South Asia today Through its inclusion of articles visual essays and in conversation pieces this collection offers insight into the ways in which this narrative is unfolding the kind of stories which are being told and how in telling these stories South Asian society is called upon to engage and crucially to react to what we see how and why we see it This book was originally published as a special issue of the South Asian Popular Culture journal
