

The background of the entire cover is a watercolor illustration. Two hands, one from the left and one from the right, are reaching towards each other with their index fingers touching at the top and their thumbs touching at the bottom, forming a heart shape. The hands are rendered in warm, earthy tones of brown, orange, and red. The background behind the hands is a soft, blended wash of colors: light blue at the top, transitioning through yellow and orange in the middle, and ending in deep red and purple at the bottom. The overall effect is one of warmth, love, and spiritual connection.

This anthology of new approaches to literary study takes its name from Lope de Vega's Arte nuevo de hacer comedias Like Lope's poem on poetics this volume also operates as a defense in the sense that many of the articles include a defense of the usefulness of literary theory in general and of their chosen approach in particular for enriching the study of the comedia In these essays it is the not quite new art of estudiar rather than hacer drama that is the central concern the contributors defending theoretical innovations approximately twenty years after James Parr in the pages of Hispania issued his challenge to Hispanists to update their approach This volume which combines innovative scholarship with the metacriticism that many critics advocate in all literary study is directed both the students of literature and to scholars who wish to expand their knowledge of the many different areas of theoretical inquiry that comediantes are currently exploring

R. Peters, 2009-03-01 Philosopher James R Peters defends the reasonableness of the Christian faith in The Logic of the Heart. He paves a middle road between the Enlightenment's worship of reason and postmodernism's emphasis on freedom and self-rule. He delves into the thought of theologian St Augustine and philosopher mathematician Blaise Pascal and engages the skeptic David Hume who argued against the possibility of miracles. Throughout this process Peters provides an alternative to postmodern thought as well as the widespread New Atheism. This work is appropriate for undergraduate and graduate students pursuing studies in philosophy of religion and historical theology. Since Peters writes in nontechnical language, readers interested in the relationship between faith and reason will also benefit from The Logic of the Heart.
