Reimagining Chan Buddhism Jimmy Yu, 2021-11-14 This book is the first socio intellectual history of the Dharma Drum Lineage of Chan Zen a new lineage of Buddhism founded by the late Chinese Buddhist cleric Sheng Yen 1931 2009 arguably one of the most influential Chan masters in contemporary times The book challenges the received academic and popular image of Chan Buddhism as a meditation school that bypasses scriptural learning Using Sheng Yen's doctrinal classification Chn panjiao chart as an example the book shows Sheng Yen's Chan as a synthesis of both Indian and Chinese premodern forms of Buddhism and as the summum bonum of Han transmission of Chinese Buddhism Chn Hanchuan fojiao The book demonstrates how Sheng Yen's presentation of Chan was intimately related to the volatile social and political realities of his life the Communist takeover of China and the subsequent industrial boom that impacted Taiwanese society In short this book presents a historically and culturally embodied approach to the formation of Buddhist doctrine and practice Drawing on the works of postcolonial theories that integrate the role of the researcher into the research the book also offers a more integrated approach between emic and etic insider and outsider perspectives to research Advancing the field of Buddhist studies the book will be of interest to scholars of Buddhism in the modern period twentieth century religious history of China and Taiwan Chan Zen studies World Religions Asian civilizations and Modern Biographies

Shattering the Great Doubt Sheng Yen, 2009-05-12 Huatou is a skillful method for breaking through the prison of mental habits into the spacious mind of enlightenment The huatou is a confounding question much like a Zen koan Typical ones are What is wu nothingness or What was my original face before birth and death But a huatou is unlike a koan in that the aim is not to come up with an answer The practice is simple ask yourself your huatou relentlessly in meditation as well as in every other activity Don't give up on it don't try to think your way to an answer Resolve to live with the sensation of doubt that arises and it will pervade your entire existence with a sense of profound wonder ultimately leading to the shattering of the sense of an independent self Master Sheng Yen brings the traditional practice to life in this practical guide based on talks he gave during a series of huatou retreats He teaches the method in detail giving advice for dealing with the typical pitfalls and problems that arise and answering retreat participants questions as they experience the practice themselves He then offers commentary on four classic huatou texts grounding his instructions in the teaching of the great Chan masters

Illumination Rebecca Li, 2023-10-31 A modern guide to the transformative practice of silent illumination from Chan Buddhist teacher Rebecca Li Silent illumination a way of penetrating the mind through curious inquiry is an especially potent accessible and portable meditation practice perfectly suited for a time when there is so much fear upheaval and sorrow in our world It is a method of reconnecting with our true nature which encompasses all that exists and where suffering cannot touch us The practice of silent illumination is simple allowing each moment to be experienced as it is in order to manifest our innate wisdom and natural capacity for compassion It can be integrated into all aspects of daily life and is meaningful for secular and Buddhist audiences new and seasoned meditators alike After guiding readers through the history and practice of silent illumination Rebecca Li shows us how we can recognize and unlearn our modes of operation habits of mind that get in the way of being fully present and engaged with life Cultivating clarity on the empty nature of these habits offers us a way to unlearn and free ourselves from unhelpful modes such as harshness to self perfectionism quietism striving for spiritual attainment and more Illumination offers stories and real life examples references to classic Buddhist texts and insights from Chan Master Sheng Yen to guide readers as they practice silent illumination not just on their cushions but throughout their lives

The Method of No-Method Sheng Yen, 2008-11-11 Here is a spiritual practice uncomplicated enough for anyone to learn yet rich enough to be worked with for a lifetime The traditional Chan Chinese Zen practice called Silent Illumination begins with nothing more than putting aside all thoughts except the awareness of oneself just sitting It s so simple in execution that it has sometimes been called the method of no method yet simple as it is the practice is subtle and profound with the potential for ever subtler refinements as the practitioner moves toward mastery of it When fully penetrated this radical form of emptying one s busy mind stream leads to perception of the vast ocean of pure awareness

The Infinite Mirror Chan Master Sheng Yen, 2006-10-10 Here is the inimitable Master Sheng Yen at his best illuminating the ancient texts of the Chinese Zen tradition to show how wonderfully practical they really are even for us today The texts written by two of the founders of the Ts ao tung sect of Chan Buddhism are poems entitled Inquiry into Matching Halves and Song of the Precious Mirror Samadhi Both emphasize the Chan view that wisdom is not separate from vexation and both speak of the levels of awareness through which one must pass on the way to realization Both are also works of Buddhist philosophy that can serve as guides to spiritual practice for anyone
