An Enchanted Modern An Enchanted Modern:

An Enchanted Modern Lara Deeb, 2011-06-27 Based on two years of ethnographic research in the southern suburbs of Beirut An Enchanted Modern demonstrates that Islam and modernity are not merely compatible but actually go hand in hand This eloquent ethnographic portrayal of an Islamic community articulates how an alternative modernity and specifically an enchanted modernity may be constructed by Shi I Muslims who consider themselves simultaneously deeply modern cosmopolitan and pious In this depiction of a Shi I Muslim community in Beirut Deeb examines the ways that individual and collective expressions and understandings of piety have been debated contested and reformulated Women take center stage in this process a result of their visibility both within the community and in relation to Western ideas that link the status of women to modernity By emphasizing the ways notions of modernity and piety are lived debated and shaped by everyday Islamists this book underscores the inseparability of piety and politics in the lives of pious Muslims An Enchanted Modern Lara Deeb, 2003 By emphasizing the ways notions of modernity and piety are lived debated and shaped by everyday Islamists this dissertation demonstrates the complexity of those engagements and underscores the inseparability of piety and politics in the lives of pious Muslims It suggests that rather than view Islamists as opposed to modernity or as selectively embracing only the technology of modernity we can instead view spiritual progress as a potential aspect of the modern The pious modern then ceases to be an oxymoron Why are Women More Religious Than Men? Marta Trzebiatowska, Steve Bruce, 2012-09-20 A state of the art review of social research on the question of why women are more religious than men for those interested in one of the largest differences between male and female behavior Christianity and Public Culture in Africa Harri Englund, 2011-04-26 Christianity and Public Culture in Africa takes the reader beyond Africa s apparent exceptionalism African Christians have created new publics often in ways that offer fresh insights into the symbolic and practical boundaries separating the secular and the sacred the private and the public and the liberal and the illiberal Critical reason and Christian convictions have combined in surprising ways when African Christians have engaged with vital public issues such as national constitutions and gender relations and with literary imaginings and controversies over tradition and HIV AIDS The contributors demonstrate how the public significance of Christianity varies across time and place They explore rural Africa and the continent s major cities and colonial and missionary situations as well as mass mediated ideas and images in the twenty first century They also reveal the plurality of Pentecostalism in Africa and keep in view the continent s continuing denominational diversity Students and scholars will find these topical studies to be impressive in scope Contributors Barbara M Cooper Harri Englund Marja Hinfelaar Nicholas Kamau Goro Birgit Meyer Michael Perry Kweku Okyerefo Damaris Parsitau Ruth Prince James A Pritchett Ilana van Wyk Modern Maine Richard A. Hebert, 1951 Arab Subcultures Tarik Sabry, Layal Ftouni, 2016-12-18 What is Arab about Arab subcultures This is the first book to set out to delineate different ways of studying and theorising Arab subcultural groups and practices including film graffiti music live art performances Arab techies and youth cultures Contributors tackle a number of questions including How is the study of Arab subcultures to be theorised How are we to analyse such creative processes in a new worldliness characterised by trans temporality and trans subjectivity Arab Subcultures effectively opens up a critical and interdisciplinary dialogue about Arab subcultures with different fields of enquiry including anthropology philosophy art criticism and cultural studies at the heart of which lies the key intellectual task of re imagining the uneasy relation between aesthetics and politics in the age of revolutions

Secularization and Religious Innovation in the North Atlantic World David Hempton, Hugh McLeod, 2017-05-05 In the early twenty first century it had become a cliché that there was a God Gap between a more religious United States and a more secular Europe The apparent religious differences between the United States and western Europe continue to be a focus of intense and sometimes bitter debate between three of the main schools in the sociology of religion According to the influential Secularization Thesis secularization has been an integral part of the processes of modernisation in the Western world since around 1800 For proponents of this thesis the United States appears as an anomaly and they accordingly give considerable attention to explaining why it is different For other sociologists however the apparently high level of religiosity in the USA provides a major argument in their attempts to refute the Thesis Secularization and Religious Innovation in the Atlantic World provides a systematic comparison between the religious histories of the United States and western European countries from the eighteenth to the late twentieth century noting parallels as well as divergences examining their causes and especially highlighting change over time This is achieved by a series of themes which seem especially relevant to this agenda and in each case the theme is considered by two scholars The volume examines whether American Christians have been more innovative and if so how far this explains the apparent God Gap It goes beyond the simple American European binary to ask what is American or European in the Christianity of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and in what ways national or regional differences outweigh these commonalities

Dilemmas of Authenticity Zaid Adhami, 2025-05-20 The past two decades have witnessed pervasive anxieties in US Muslim communities around a perceived crisis of faith As Zaid Adhami argues in this richly textured ethnography these concerns are fundamentally about the pressures and dilemmas of authenticity what it really means to be a Muslim While discussions about authenticity in Islam typically focus on maintaining tradition and competing claims to true Islam Adhami focuses instead on the powerful idea of being true to one's own self and what it means to have genuine belief Drawing on extensive conversations with American Muslims and careful readings of broader communal discourse Adhami shows that this drive for personal authenticity plays out in complicated ways It can produce deep doubt while also serving as the grounds to affirm tradition It can converge with revivalist modes of piety but it can also prompt emphatic challenges to communal orthodoxies Through vivid storytelling and sensitive analysis Adhami illuminates why religious doubt is often a source of intense anxiety in today's world and how people maintain their faith despite such unsettling uncertainty

An Islam of Her Own Sherine

Hafez,2011-04-11 As the world grapples with issues of religious fanaticism extremist politics and rampant violence that seek justification in either religious or secular discourses women who claim Islam as a vehicle for individual and social change are often either regarded as pious subjects who subscribe to an ideology that denies them many modern freedoms or as feminist subjects who seek empowerment only through rejecting religion and adopting secularist discourses Such assumptions emerge from a common trend in the literature to categorize the secular and the religious as polarizing categories which in turn mitigates the identities experiences and actions of women in Islamic societies Yet in actuality Muslim women whose activism is grounded in Islam draw equally on principles associated with secularism In An Islam of Her Own Sherine Hafez focuses on women s Islamic activism in Egypt to challenge these binary representations of religious versus secular subjectivities Drawing on six non consecutive years of ethnographic fieldwork within a women s Islamic movement in Cairo Hafez analyzes the ways in which women who participate in Islamic activism narrate their selfhood articulate their desires and embody discourses in which the boundaries are blurred between the religious and the secular

Theater State and the Formation of Early Modern Public Sphere in Iran Babak Rahimi,2011-11-11 During the Safavid period the Shi i Muharram commemorative rites which had been publically practiced since the 7th century became a manifestation of state power Already during the reign of Shah Abbas I 1587 1629 the Muharram rituals had transformed into an extraordinary rich repertoire of ceremonies and ceremonial spaces that can be defined as theater state Under Shah Safi I 1629 1642 these ceremonies ultimately led to carnivalesque celebrations of misrule and transgression This first systematic study of a wide range of Persian and European archival and primary sources analyzes how the Muharram rites changed from being an originally devotional practice to an ambiguous ritualization that in combination with other public arenas such as the bazaar coffeehouses or travel lodges created distinct spaces of communication whereby the widening gap between state and society gave way to the formation of the early Iranian public sphere Ultimately the Muharram public spaces allowed for a shift in individual and collective identities opening the way to multifaceted living fields of interaction as well as being sites of contestation where innovative expressions of politics were made In particular the construction of the new Isfahan in 1590 is linked with the widespread proliferation of the Muharram mortuary rites by discussing rituals performed in major urban spaces
