HABITAT of a giraffe

Giraffes live in the savanna, which is a grassy plain with scattered trees and shrubs. They are found in Africa, particularly in the countries of Kenya, Tanzania, and Uganda. Giraffes are adapted to life in the savanna with their long necks, which allow them to reach the leaves of tall trees for food. They also have long legs, which help them run quickly to escape predators. Giraffes are social animals and live in groups called herds. They communicate with each other using a variety of sounds, including roars, grunts, and low-frequency rumbles. Giraffes are also known for their unique patterned coats, which help them blend into their environment.
