Aging And Decision Making Empirical And Applied Perspectives:

Aging and Decision Making Thomas M. Hess, Jo Nell Strough, Corinna Löckenhoff, 2015-02-17 Decisions large and small play a fundamental role in shaping life course trajectories of health and well being decisions draw upon an individual's capacity for self regulation and self control their ability to keep long term goals in mind and their willingness to place appropriate value on their future well being Aging and Decision Making addresses the specific cognitive and affective processes that account for age related changes in decision making targeting interventions to compensate for vulnerabilities and leverage strengths in the aging individual This book focuses on four dominant approaches that characterize the current state of decision making science and aging neuroscience behavioral mechanisms competence models and applied perspectives Underscoring that choice is a ubiquitous component of everyday functioning Aging and Decision Making examines the implications of how we invest our limited social temporal psychological financial and physical resources and lays essential groundwork for the design of decision supportive interventions for adaptive aging that take into account individual capacities and context variables Divided into four dominant approaches that characterize the current state of decision making science and aging neuroscience Explores the impact of aging on the linkages between cortical structures functions and the behavioral indices of decision making Examines the themes associated with behavioral approaches that attempt integrations of methods models and theories of general decision making with those derived from the study of aging Details the changes in underlying competencies in later life and the two prevailing themes that have emerged one the general individual differences perspective and two a more clinical focus The Cambridge Handbook of Cognitive Aging

Ayanna K. Thomas, Angela Gutchess, 2020-05-28 Decades of research have demonstrated that normal aging is accompanied by cognitive change Much of this change has been conceptualized as a decline in function However age related changes are not universal and decrements in older adult performance may be moderated by experience genetics and environmental factors Cognitive aging research to date has also largely emphasized biological changes in the brain with less evaluation of the range of external contributors to behavioral manifestations of age related decrements in performance This handbook provides a comprehensive overview of cutting edge cognitive aging research through the lens of a life course perspective that takes into account both behavioral and neural changes Focusing on the fundamental principles that characterize a life course approach genetics early life experiences motivation emotion social contexts and lifestyle interventions this handbook is an essential resource for researchers in cognition aging and gerontology Psychological Perspectives on Financial Decision Making Tomasz Zaleskiewicz, Jakub Traczyk, 2020-07-21 This book reviews the latest research from psychology neuroscience and behavioral economics evaluating how people make financial choices in real life circumstances The volume is divided into three sections investigating financial decision making at the level of the brain the level of an individual decision maker and the level of the society concluding with a discussion of the implications for further research Among the topics discussed Neural and hormonal bases of financial decision making Personality cognitive abilities emotions and financial decisions Aging and financial decision making Coping methods for making financial choices under uncertainty Stock market crashes and market bubbles Psychological perspectives on borrowing paying taxes gambling and charitable giving Psychological Perspectives on Financial Decision Making is a useful reference for researchers both in and outside of psychology including decision making experts consumer psychologists and behavioral economists Multiple Pathways of Cognitive Aging Grzegorz Sedek, Thomas M. Hess, Dayna R. Touron, 2022 Multiple Pathways of Cognitive Aging explores adaptive functioning in later life It considers both the factors underlying individual differences in late life cognitive change as well as the nature of the compensatory mechanisms developed by most successful and active middle aged and older adults
