Air Pollution Control C. David Cooper, F. C. Alley, 2006      Air Pollution Control C. David Cooper, F. C.

Alley, 2010-08-25 A 25 year tradition of excellence is extended in the Fourth Edition of this highly regarded text. In clear authoritative language the authors discuss the philosophy and procedures for the design of air pollution control systems. Their objective is twofold: to present detailed information on air pollution and its control and to provide formal design training for engineering students. New to this edition is a comprehensive chapter on carbon dioxide control, perhaps the most critical emerging issue in the field. Emphasis is on methods to reduce carbon dioxide emissions and the technologies for carbon capture and sequestration. An expanded discussion of control technologies for coal fired power plants includes details on the capture of NO<sub>x</sub> and mercury emissions. All chapters have been revised to reflect the most recent information on U.S. air quality trends and standards. Moreover, where available, equations for equipment cost estimation have been updated to the present time. Abundant illustrations clarify the concepts presented, while numerous examples and end of chapter problems reinforce the design principles and provide opportunities for students to enhance their problem solving skills.

Remediation of Former Manufactured Gas Plants and Other Coal-Tar Sites Allen W. Hatheway, 2011-07-27 Winner of the 2013 Claire P. Holdredge Awardee for Remediation of Former Manufactured Gas Plants and Other Coal Tar Sites. This award, first established in 1962 by the Association of Environmental and Engineering Geologists, is named in honor of Claire P. Holdredge, a founding member and the first President of the Association. The award is presented for a publication by an AEG Member within the 5 previous years that is adjudged to be an outstanding contribution to the Engineering Geology profession. Remediation of Former Manufactured Gas Plants and Other Coal Tar Sites is geared toward environmental professionals who want to design and implement gasworks remediation strategies that offer the greatest chance to successfully protect the public. Exploring the bases for selecting remedial alternatives to adequately address today's environmental wounds, this compendium of essential knowledge combines historic and modern scientific data and technology with common sense and empirical lore passed down from past generations of gas professionals, a group that is now all but extinct. Most of the general population does not have a sufficient understanding of remediation needs. Unfortunately, there seems to be a similar lack of knowledge among some environmental professionals whose job it is to protect the public from the health threats associated with coal tar. Pitfalls in remediation are common and represent a significant risk to the public, especially when processes are based on inaccurate assumptions. This book sifts through the existing scholarship from around the developed world to present the necessary evaluation factors used in effective remediation. Almost encyclopedic in scope, it offers 265 separate tables with checklists, hard data, facts, and associations to help readers define site specific gas plant conditions. It also includes a plethora of photographs and historic drawings, as well as an extensive glossary that is indispensable for understanding potential and actual gas plant contamination. Useful for engineers, scientists, regulators, public officials historians and journalists among others this book is intended for those who conduct remediation as well as those involved in review and oversight Its goal is to bring users closer to safely reclaiming land and reviving old coal gasworks sites in ways that ultimately will be sustainable for the public interest     Environment Reporter ,1984 Current developments a weekly review of pollution control and related environmental management problems Decisions later published in bound volumes Environment reporter Cases Monographs Federal laws Federal regulations State air laws State water laws State solid waste land use laws Mining     Journal of the House of Representatives of the United States United States.
