Mehta,2013-09-13 The birthplace of Mahatma Gandhi and the land that produced Mohammad Ali Jinnah the founder of Pakistan Gujarat has been at the centre stage of South Asia's political iconography for more than a century. As Gujarat created as a separate state in 1960 celebrates its golden jubilee, this collection of essays critically explores the many paradoxes and complexities of modernity and politics in the state. The contributors provide much needed insights into the dominant impulses of identity formation, cultural change, political mobilisation, religious movements and modes of communication that define modern Gujarat. This book touches upon a fascinating range of topics: the identity debates at the heart of the idea of modern Gujarat; the trajectory of Gujarati politics from the 1950s to the present day; bootlegging, the practice of corruption and public power; vegetarianism and violence; urban planning and the enabling infrastructure of antagonism; global diasporas and provincial politics, providing new insights into understanding the enigma of Gujarat. Going well beyond the boundaries of Gujarat and engaging with larger questions about democracy and diversity in India, this book will appeal to those interested in South Asian Studies, politics, sociology, history as well as the general reader. This book was published as a special issue of South Asian History and Culture. Time Warps Ashis Nandy, 2002. They are no longer as easily drawn upon to oppose the forces of intolerance and hatred. Habitations of Modernity Dipesh Chakrabarty, 2002-07-15. In Habitations of Modernity Dipesh Chakrabarty explores the complexities of modernism in India and seeks principles of humaneness grounded in everyday life that may elude grand political theories. The questions that motivate Chakrabarty are shared by all postcolonial historians and anthropologists: How do we think about the legacy of the European Enlightenment in lands far from Europe in geography or history? How can we envision ways of being modern that speak to what is shared around the world as well as to cultural diversity? How do we resist the tendency to justify the violence accompanying triumphalist moments of modernity? Chakrabarty pursues these issues in a series of closely linked essays ranging from a history of the influential Indian series Subaltern Studies to examinations of specific cultural practices in modern India such as the use of khadi, Gandhian style of dress by male politicians and the politics of civic consciousness in public spaces. He concludes with considerations of the ethical dilemmas that arise when one writes on behalf of social justice projects. Postcolonizing the International Phillip Darby, 2006-06-30. Postcolonizing the International brings post colonialism directly into engagement with contemporary international studies while at the same time reflecting back on the discourse, noting certain blindspots and shortcomings in critique. Reversing the established agenda, it begins with the position of non-European societies and the legacies of colonialism. Two companion essays on knowledge formations about the international and the changing nature of the political are followed by challenging reinterpretations of contemporary global politics focusing on race, skewed development, cultural difference and everyday life. Individual chapters speak to the significance of consumption and commodification, the need for redirecting Western development strategies, initiatives of the Tibetan cabinet in exile and sexuality as metaphor. Contributors: Phillip Darby, Paul James, Gabriel Lafitte, Marcia Langton, Ashis Nandy, Edgar Ng, Sekai Nzenza, Simon Obendorf, Nabaneeta Dev Sen. Cultural Otherness and Beyond Chhanda

Gupta, Debi Prasad Chattopadhyaya, 1998 This collection of essays deals with some pressing social cultural and moral concerns It addresses problems of trans cultural and intro cultural understanding due to diverse perceptions of various themes Moving beyond Cultural Otherness its aim is to evolve linkages between alternative visions of convergent character avoiding the extremes of hegemonic globalization and radical relativism Themes included are alternative perceptions of 1 history and historiography 2 flux 3 satisfactions and obstacles in cross cultural understanding 4 A self and other 5 cultural objects 6 world crisis 7 democracy and development 8 bias against women in India 9 gender justice 10 women s freedom 11 culture theory and practice Each subject in its specific area signals the turn towards shared visions of the human condition The book has relevance for an interdisciplinary audience interested in cross cultural dialogue that signals the turn from divergences to convergence fragmentation to non hegemonic globalization
