The Oxford Handbook of Peaceful Change in International Relations T. V. Paul, Deborah Welch Larson, Harold A. Trinkunas, Anders Wivel, Ralf Emmers, 2021 Abstract With the rapid rise of China and the relative decline of the United States the topic of power transition conflicts is back in popular and scholarly attention The discipline of International Relations offers much on why violent power transition conflicts occur yet very few substantive treatments exist on why and how peaceful changes happen in world politics This Handbook is the first comprehensive treatment of the subject of peaceful change in International Relations It contains some 41 chapters all written by scholars from different theoretical and conceptual backgrounds examining the multi faceted dimensions of this subject In the first part key conceptual and definitional clarifications are offered and in the second part papers address the historical origins of peaceful change as an International Relations subject matter during the Inter War Cold War and Post Cold War eras In the third part each of the IR theoretical traditions and paradigms in particular Realism liberalism constructivism and critical perspectives and their distinct views on peaceful change are analyzed In the fourth part papers tackle the key material ideational and social sources of change In the fifth part the papers explore selected great and middle powers and their foreign policy contributions to peaceful change realizing that many of these states have violent past or tend not to pursue peaceful policies consistently In part six the contributors evaluate the peaceful change that occurred in the world s key regions In the final part the editors address prospective research agenda and trajectories on this important subject matter

Keywords Peaceful Change War Security International Relations Theory Sources of Change Systemic Theory Realism Liberalism Constructivism Critical Theories Imagining Industan Zafar Adeel, Robert G. Wirsing, 2016-10-20 This volume calls upon over a dozen Indus observers to imagine a scenario for the Indus basin in which transboundary cooperation over water resources overcomes the insecurity arising from water dependence and scarcity From diverse perspectives its essays examine the potential benefits to be gained from revisiting the 1960 Indus Waters Treaty as well as from mounting joint efforts to increase water supply to combat climate change to develop hydroelectric power and to improve water management The Indus basin is shared by four countries Afghanistan China India and Pakistan The basin s significance stems in part simply from the importance of these countries three of them among the planet s most populous states one of them boasting the world s second largest economy and three of them members of the exclusive nuclear weapons club However the basin s significance stems also from the great importance of the Indus waters themselves due especially to the region s massive dependence on irrigated agriculture as well as to the menace of climate change and advancing water scarcity The Industan this volume imagines is a definite departure from business as usual responses to the Indus basin s emerging fresh water crisis The objective is to kindle serious discussion of the cooperation needed to confront what many water experts believe is developing into one of the planet s most gravely threatened river basins It is thus both assessment of the current state of play in regard to water security in the Indus basin and recommendation about where to go from here Kurdish Art and Identity Alireza Korangy, 2020-09-07 Folklore has been a phenomenon based on nostalgic and autochthonous nuances conveyed with a story telling technique with a penchant for over playing and nationalistic pomp and circumstance often with significant consequences for societal poetic and cultural areas These papers highlight challenges that have an outreaching relationship to the regional rhetorical and trans rhetorical devices and manners in Kurdish folklore which subscribes to an ironic sense of hope all the while issuing an appeal for a largely unaccomplished nationhood simultaneously insisting on a linguistic solidarity In a folkloric literature that has an overarching theory of poetics perhaps even trans figurative cognitive poetics due to the multi faceted nature of its application and the complexity of its linguistic structure the relationship of man and less frequently woman with others takes center stage in many of the folkloric creations Arts are not figurative representations of the real in the Kurdish world they are the real Warfare Ecology Gary E. Machlis, Thor Hanson, Zdravko Špirić, Jean E. McKendry, 2011-06-06 The purpose of this book is specific and ambitious to outline the distinctive elements scope and usefulness of a new and emerging field of applied ecology named warfare ecology Based on a NATO Advanced Research Workshop held on the island of Vieques Puerto Rico the book provides both a theoretical overview of this new field and case studies that range from mercury contamination during World War I in Slovenia to the ecosystem impacts of the Palestinian occupation and from the bombing of coral reefs of Vieques to biodiversity loss due to violent conflicts in Africa Warfare Ecology also includes reprints of several classical papers that set the stage for the new synthesis described by the authors Written for environmental scientists military and humanitarian relief professionals conservation managers and graduate students in a wide range of fields Warfare Ecology is a major step forward in understanding the relationship between war and ecological systems
