Colour-Coded Constance Backhouse, 1999-11-20 Historically Canadians have considered themselves to be more or less free of racial prejudice Although this conception has been challenged in recent years it has not been completely dispelled In Colour Coded Constance Backhouse illustrates the tenacious hold that white supremacy had on our legal system in the first half of this century and underscores the damaging legacy of inequality that continues today Backhouse presents detailed narratives of six court cases each giving evidence of blatant racism created and enforced through law The cases focus on Aboriginal Inuit Chinese Canadian and African Canadian individuals taking us from the criminal prosecution of traditional Aboriginal dance to the trial of members of the Ku Klux Klan of Canada From thousands of possibilities Backhouse has selected studies that constitute central moments in the legal history of race in Canada Her selection also considers a wide range of legal forums including administrative rulings by municipal councils criminal trials before police magistrates and criminal and civil cases heard by the highest courts in the provinces and by the Supreme Court of Canada The extensive and detailed documentation presented here leaves no doubt that the Canadian legal system played a dominant role in creating and preserving racial discrimination A central message of this book is that racism is deeply embedded in Canadian history despite Canada s reputation as a raceless society Winner of the Joseph Brant Award presented by the Ontario Historical Society

A Question of Colour Pattie Lees, Adam Lees, 2020-08-01 Autobiography of a victim of the stolen generation in Australia

Orphaned by the Colour of My Skin Mary Terszak, 2015-07-17 In an invasive paternalistic federal public policy environment for Indigenous communities this book provides an in depth account of one person s experiences as a Stolen Generation Aboriginal Australian Told from the heart the book speaks in the raw voice of a grandmother reflecting on her life focusing on her childhood experiences subsequent perceptions and life stories The book presents a rare autobiographical journaling of the psychological impact of institutionalisation on an Indigenous woman her search for family community and identity her psychological breakdown and her personal reconstruction through telling her story in a supportive educational environment As an Appendix the author provides us with a critical analysis and autoethnography using her story as a case study that provides deep insights into the personal experience of dealing with forced institutionalisation and social engineering to assimilate Aboriginal people The Racial Politics of Bodies, Nations and Knowledges Barbara Baird, Damien W. Riggs, 2009-01-14 The Racial Politics of Bodies Nations and Knowledges takes on the urgent task of chipping away at existing racial and ethnic hierarchies that obstruct global and local movement towards human rights and social justice It imagines subjective social and political spaces which might enable this movement Many authors engage with Indigenous sovereignties from both Indigenous and non Indigenous perspectives While most authors write from an Australian perspective the issues addressed both have relevance beyond antipodean borders and complicate the idea of national boundaries Chapters include a comparison of Indigenous struggles for land in Canada and Australia the situation of minority ethnic and religious communities in the European Union a meditation on teaching an Australian film about colonial history to German university students and the story of the delicate positioning of a man of mixed Maori and Irish heritage finding cultural citizenship in the US academy in the mid 20th century Other chapters focus on children s storybooks media representations of suffering and websites aimed at gay and lesbian youth all international phenomena and all places where racialised politics are at play The book also offers insights into contemporary Australian racial politics via analyses of the treatment of asylum seekers the health of Indigenous women the education of young Indigenous people and the development of national histories in local tourist promotion Readers looking for international perspectives on racial issues will find this book a diverse but rewarding approach to vitally important subject matter

Health Promotion with Adolescent Boys and Young Men of Colour James A. Smith, Daphne C. Watkins, Derek M. Griffith, 2023-02-28 This book highlights novel and pragmatic health promotion efforts being adopted with boys and young men of colour BYMOC globally that apply a strengths based approach Men s adoption of risky health practices and reluctance to seek help and engage in preventive health behaviours have frequently been used to explain their poorer health outcomes particularly among adolescent boys and young men and disproportionately affecting BYMOC Emerging literature on equity and men s health has conveyed that intersections among age race sexuality socioeconomic status and geography contribute to a complex array of health and social inequities There is growing evidence to suggest these inequities shape the health practices of BYMOC Unfortunately these health and social inequities can have negative lifelong consequences An increased focus on reducing health inequities has led to a greater focus on health promotion actions that address social and cultural determinants of health The vulnerabilities that BYMOC face are diverse and are reflected in a range of tailored health promotion interventions Health promotion approaches that influence structural and systemic inequities experienced by BYMOC have been a prominent feature In this volume the editors and contributors purposefully bring together international research and promising practice examples from Australia the United States New Zealand and Canada to celebrate health promotion strategies that help to improve the health and social trajectories of BYMOC In doing so the book moves beyond discussing the health inequities faced by this population to talk about the practical actions to address them in context Health Promotion with Adolescent Boys and Young Men of Colour brings together diffuse strands of scholarship relating to male health promotion gender masculinities and health equity and men s health and gender and youth development The book is a unique and useful resource for practitioners policy makers researchers and students with an interest in health promotion public health social work social policy education men s health youth development Indigenous studies and health and social equity

The International Legal Order's Colour Line William A. Schabas, William Schabas, 2023 The International Legal Order s Colour Line charts the development of regulation on racism and racial discrimination in international law Outlining landmark resolutions and their development the book challenges the narrative that human rights are a creation of the Global North while demonstrating the decisive contribution of the Global South

A Rape of the Soul So Profound Peter Read, 2020-08-28 A Rape of the Soul So Profound began when a young researcher accidentally came upon restricted files in an archives collection What he read overturned all his assumptions about an important part of Aboriginal experience and Australia s past The book ends in the present 20 years later in the aftermath of the Royal Commission on the Stolen Generations Along the way Peter Read investigates how good intentions masked policies with inhuman results He tells the poignant stories of many individuals some of whom were forever broken and some who went on to achieve great things This is a book about much sorrow and occasional madness about governments who pretended things didn t happen and about the opportunities offered to right a great wrong

Different Cultures, Mixing Colours Valerie Walton, 2014-10-29 The objective of our design is to help people from other cultures to accept our culture and let them know there s nothing to be afraid because beauty also comes from within aboriginal people Most importantly this is our way of telling aboriginal children to have pride in themselves and their culture no matter what and to hang on to the pride they were born with We believe this is one step toward reconciliation
