Accelerando Charles Stross:

Accelerando Charles Stross, 2005-07-05 The Singularity It is the era of the posthuman Artificial intelligences have surpassed the limits of human intellect Biotechnological beings have rendered people all but extinct Molecular nanotechnology runs rampant replicating and reprogramming at will Contact with extraterrestrial life grows more imminent with each new day Struggling to survive and thrive in this accelerated world are three generations of the Macx clan Manfred an entrepreneur dealing in intelligence amplification technology whose mind is divided between his physical environment and the Internet his daughter Amber on the run from her domineering mother seeking her fortune in the outer system as an indentured astronaut and Sirhan Amber's son who finds his destiny linked to the fate of all of humanity For something is systematically dismantling the nine planets of the solar system Something beyond human comprehension Something that has no use for biological life in any form

Singularities Joshua Raulerson, 2013 This groundbreaking volume is the first to mount a sustained and wide ranging critical treatment of Singularity the irrevocable transformation of the nature of human existence by technological advancement as a subject for theory and cultural studies

Hyperdrawing Russell Marshall, Phil Sawdon, 2012-08-07 In hyperdrawing beyond the lines of contemporary art authors and artists come together to explore the potential of what drawing in contemporary art theory and practice might become In this follow up to 2007's drawing now between the lines of contemporary art Phil Sawdon and Russell Marshall two of the current directors of TRACEY curate contemporary drawing within fine art practice from 2006 through to 2010 Four essays and images from 33 international artists collectively explore the boundaries of the hyperdrawing space investigating in essence what lies beyond drawing images that use traditional materials or subjects whilst also pushing beyond the traditional employing sound light time space and technology Over and above traditional views and practices the authors and artists in this book recognise and embrace the opportunities inherent in the essential ambiguity of drawing Practitioners of hyperreal works 2D3D4D pieces and installations that push beyond photorealism all find their place within this new conception of hyperdrawing as techne a productive space no longer limited by spatial boundaries Artists including Catherine Bertola Layla Curtis Garrett Phelan Suzanne Treister and Ulrich Vogl alongside the essays of Emma Cocker Siun Hanrahan and Marsha Meskimmon provide a contemporary view in both visual and written form of how ambiguity can be used as a strategic approach in drawing research and practice A gallery in book form hyperdrawing takes drawing beyond the interaction of pencil and paper and traces contemporary adventures in multiple dimensions and alternate realities

Pathways to a New Environmental Ethic Steven E. Alford, 2024-07-25 We live under the threat of humanity's self-inflicted extinction While technological approaches to climate mitigation are admirable our ecological crisis results ultimately from an inherited unexamined concept of selfhood and a misconceived view of nature The received idea that our self exists inside our skull engenders an assumption that nature is out there with devastating results This book explores three new ways of thinking about the interrelation of ourselves and nature Merleau Ponty's notion of embodiment the connection between enactivism and affordances and object oriented ontology These approaches to selfhood reorder our moral obligations What are our responsibilities to ourselves our children and nature itself An embodied ethic can transcend cultural biases and offer a new way of confronting climate change To meet environmental challenges we need to change our minds about our minds Discourses on the Edges of Life Vicent Salvador, Adéla Kotátková, Ignasi Clemente, 2020-04-15 Death inhabits our collective imaginary even though sometimes like a squatter it hides discretely in order to avoid conflicts It is undoubtedly a multi faceted subject of study which requires consideration from an interdisciplinary perspective This book deals with this phenomenon and more specifically with the discourses that surround and construct our perspectives and understanding of death and dying Of course the present volume does not attempt to be exhaustive and considers the subject from several standpoints including linguistics anthropology history of medicine and importantly literary studies It combines various points of view and different methodologies of knowledge in the hope that they come together to constitute a written dialogue or more precisely a polylogue The ordering of the texts in this volume provides readers with an itinerary that begins with more general approaches such as a historical presentation of the medicalisation of death and an in depth reflection on the best way to die and ends with studies of specific literary works from different periods The itinerary that this book provides is framed by a discourse analysis based overview that explores how different approaches to death and dying intersect and complement each other in an interdisciplinary endeavour This analysis focuses on literary and non literary genres in order to shed some new light on a topic that is inexhaustible because of its sociocultural relevance Glasshouse Charles Stross, 2006 Awakening in a clinic with most of his memories missing Robin goes on the run from unknown enemies out to kill him volunteering to take part in the Glasshouse an experimental polity simulating a pre accelerated culture in which he will be assigned an anonymous identity but he experiences radical changes that threaten everything 20 000 first printing The Projected and Prophetic: Humanity in Cyberculture, Cyberspace, and Science Fiction Jordan J. Copeland, 2020-03-31 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2011 The papers collected in this volume document the exchange and development of ideas that comprised the 5th Global Conference on Visions of Humanity in Cyberculture Cyberspace and Science Fiction hosted at Mansfield College Oxford United Kingdom in July 2010 As in the past the conference was driven by questions related to how cyberculture cyberspace and science fiction can provide new insights into the nature of what it is to be human and the understanding of what it means for human beings to live in communities In addition to these recurring themes there is just as importantly a disposition that is shared by those participating in this volume The authors as well the writers thinkers and filmmakers they consider in their essays demonstrate an intrepid and inquisitive approach that tests age old questions within the rapidly expanding but still vaguely defined spaces that new technologies have afforded us Moreover in many ways the conference and present volume reflect their subject which has always been situated self consciously and comfortably between the receding boundaries that have traditionally served both to delineate various academic disciplines and to distinguish real scholarship from popular discourse Thus as evidenced in the chapters of this volume the conference benefited from the participation of delegates who represented a variety of fields methodologies and perspectives

Discognition Steven Shaviro, 2016-04-19 What is consciousness What is it like to feel pain or to see the color red Do robots and computers really think For that matter do plants and amoebas think If we ever meet intelligent aliens will we be able to understand what they say to us Philosophers and scientists are still unable to answer questions like these Perhaps science fiction can help In Discognition Steven Shaviro looks at science fiction novels and stories that explore the extreme possibilities of human and alien sentience      The Cambridge Companion to Utopian Literature Gregory Claeys, 2010-08-05 Using a combination of historical and thematic approaches this volume engages with the fascinating and complex genre of utopian literature      I, Lobster Nancy Frazier, 2012 A consideration of the lobster in history myth art literature and cuisine
