We Are Doomed to Extinction Benjamin Volk, 2015-12-17 Many books posit various theories about climate change and the future of the human race We Are Doomed to Extinction is a thoroughly researched book that sums up author Ben Volk's twenty years of expertise on the topic The Stanford educated research engineer has applied rigorous data analysis to his theory of how the world will end for human beings and everything else We Are Doomed to Extinction takes a look at several scientific studies and through the scientific method makes a startling conclusion about what's currently happening to and on Earth Specifically Volk analyzes the end of the current ice age and the ramifications of this cycle's end Much like a mathematical equation Volk puts the numbers together to present an emotionally charged sum of sobering gravity His conclusion is exquisitely simple Life on Earth is doomed to extinction There is nothing that can be done to prevent it What makes this book important is Volk's well studied evidence based sequencing of climate change Earth's changing polarity and the effect of solar rays on the environment Perhaps the most alarming conclusion of all however is that this world ending process has already begun
