The motivation for these volumes is to provide a vision for the future of small telescopes While this is an admirable task ultimately I believe that as happens all the time in science the prognostications will be overtaken by a rapidly changing scientific reality As Virginia Trimble points out in chapter 1 the kinds of big questions that face us as astronomers today are rather different than the ones that drove the construction of astronomical facilities through much of the twentieth century Right now it appears that small telescopes will not have a lot of influence in answering those questions though they will of course contribute enormously to the many issues discussed throughout the three volumes We are on the verge of opening a whole new parameter space that may revolutionize the way we think of small telescopes and their role in astronomy the domain of the rapidly variable sky While the LSST is the most prominent example it is a long way in the future Nemiroff Rafert chapter 2 consider the value of monitoring large parts of the sky on a continuous basis using technology similar to a webcam They have installed their CONCAM2 at four locations including Kitt Peak A related project built and operated by the Harvard graduate student Gaspar Bakos HAT-1 Hungarian Automated Telescope also is in operation at Kitt Peak
