Gordijn, Francesca Pistoia

At The End Of Life At The End Of Life:

At the End of Life Lee Gutkind, 2012-04-10 What should medicine do when it can't save your life The modern healthcare system has become proficient at staving off death with aggressive interventions And yet eventually everyone dies and although most Americans say they would prefer to die peacefully at home more than half of all deaths take place in hospitals or health care facilities At the End of Life the latest collaborative book project between the Creative Nonfiction Foundation and the Jewish Healthcare Foundation tackles this conundrum head on Featuring twenty two compelling personal medical narratives the collection explores death dying and palliative care and highlights current features flaws and advances in the healthcare system Here a poet and former hospice worker reflects on death's mysteries a son wanders the halls of his mother's nursing home lost in the small absurdities of the place a grief counselor struggles with losing his own grandfather a medical intern traces the origins and meaning of time a mother anguishes over her decision to turn off her daughter's life support and allow her organs to be harvested and a nurse remembers many of her former patients These original compelling personal narratives reveal the inner workings of hospitals homes and hospices where patients their doctors and their loved ones all battle to hang on and to let go Contemporary European Perspectives on the Ethics of End of Life Care Nathan

Emmerich, Pierre Mallia, Bert Gordijn, Francesca Pistoia, 2020-05-12 This book examines the ethics of end of life care focusing on the kinds of decisions that are commonly made in clinical practice Specific attention is paid to the intensification of treatment for terminal symptoms particularly pain relief and the withdrawal and withholding of care particularly life saving or life prolonging medical care The book is structured into three sections The first section contains essays examining end of life care from the perspective of moral theory and theology The second sets out various conceptual terms and distinctions relevant to decision making at the end of life The third section contains chapters that focus on substantive ethical issues This format not only provides for a comprehensive analysis of the ethical issues that arise in the context of end of life care but allows readers to effectively trace the philosophical theological and conceptual underpinnings that inform their specific interests This work will be of interest to scholars working in the area as well as clinicians specialists and healthcare professionals who encounter these issues in the course of their practice End of Life Care Issues Guidebook Caroline

Young (MPH.), Cyndie Koopsen, Daniel Farb, 2005 Understanding the psychological social and spiritual needs at the end of life is crucial for today's health care providers The goal of this guidebook is to provide an overview of end of life care with an emphasis on the team approach to care End-of-Life Care and Pragmatic Decision Making D. Micah Hester, 2009-11-30 Every one of us will die and the processes we go through will be our own unique to our own experiences and life stories End of Life Care and Pragmatic Decision Making provides a pragmatic philosophical framework based on a radically empirical attitude toward life and death D Micah Hester takes seriously the complexities of experiences and argues that when making end of life decisions healthcare providers ought to pay close attention to the narratives of patients and the communities they inhabit so that their dying processes embody their life stories He discusses three types of end of life patient populations adults with decision making capacity adults without capacity and children with a strong focus on infants to show the implications of pragmatic empiricism and the scope of decision making at the end of life for different types of patients

End-of-Life Care Considerations for the Speech-Language Pathologist Helen Sharp,Amanda Stead,2024-01-11 The crucial role of speech language pathologists SLPs in hospice and palliative settings receives a long overdue focus in End of Life Care Considerations for the Speech Language Pathologist the fifth volume in Plural s Medical Speech Language Pathology book series Seasoned clinicians provide a practical guide to the terminology context and knowledge needed to employ best practices and address the specific needs of patients nearing the end of life As a profession speech language pathology focuses primarily on rehabilitation with the expectation that patients function will improve with intervention For patients with life limiting conditions SLPs play an important role in supporting patients communication cognition eating drinking and swallowing with an emphasis on quality of living Clinical professionals require tailored resources to develop their knowledge and skills related to appropriate care and treatment in hospice and palliative care contexts which have been hard to find until now Nearly all patients experience difficulties with communication and eating as they near the end of life Patients family members and professionals benefit if the patient can communicate their symptoms indicate the effectiveness of symptom management strategies participate in setting care goals and engage in social emotional and spiritual conversations with family and members of the care team This book provides SLP professionals guidance in how to offer meaningful assessments and interventions that meet patients needs The book contains case examples together with the latest research and contributing clinicians years of experience Supported by these effective and thoughtful strategies SLPs can offer both comfort and care for patients in their final days Key Features An overview of and introduction to the key concepts and benefits of hospice and palliative care Guidance on terminology and standard models of end of life care Adult and pediatric case studies with frequently encountered scenarios Chapters authored by a renowned team of contributors Discussion of legal and ethical considerations Practical techniques and strategies for assessment and intervention Values at the End of Life Roi Livne,2019-06-10 Once defiant of death or even in denial many American families and health care professionals are embracing the notion that a life consumed by suffering may not be worth living Sociologist Roi Livne documents the rise and effectiveness of hospice and palliative care and the growing acceptance that less treatment may be better near the end of life Palliative Care in Europe H. ten Have,Rien Janssens,2001 This text is concerned with the organization ideas and problems of palliative care in the European context As a result of a BIOMED project various organizations concepts and problematic issues of palliative care have been studied and described Longevity and Quality of Life Robert N. Butler,Claude Jasmin,2012-12-06 Nations around the world are experiencing a spectacular increase in longevity Society as a whole is being challenged by issues arising from this revolution in longevity Although the specter of the loneliness and existential suffering of older citizens is such that some people under the age of 65 find it difficult to conceive of a long term future persons over 85 have proven that aging does not necessarily preclude a healthy and productive life Extraordinary progress in both curative and preventive medicine justifies optimism about the quality of life and state of well being that can be enjoyed even in great old age We should look to professionals in diverse fields to develop creative solutions to the inevitable issues that will arise with aging Governments must prepare for the future health of their citizens by making long term investments to educate all sectors of society in the value of good nutrition exercise and lifestyles that enhance well being throughout life Also governments should realize that the main cause of health care expenditure is serious illness which occurs in persons of all ages and not predominantly in older people Early detection can help save lives as well Health and longevity of life will ultimately end as a political issue What is needed is long term government investments necessary for a viable health policy The question arises will world leaders be able to commit to such a policy Two major socioeconomic phenomena may have a regulating effect on this issue The first is the emergence of pressure groups that have come into being in response to a particular health issue such as AIDS The second is the emergence of ethics committees in developed nations that deal solely with health issues

Issues in Palliative Care

Research Russell K. Portenoy, 2003-01-30 Symptom control management of psychosocial and spiritual concerns decision making consistent with values and goals and care of the imminently dying that is appropriate and sensitive are among the critical issues in palliative care This book explores progress made and future goals Psychosocial Issues in Palliative Care Mari Lloyd-Williams, 2018 This new edition examines the current provision of psychosocial support taking into account the community approaches of psychosocial care the role of volunteers in supporting psychosocial needs and the needs of the frail elderly It is essential reading for the fields of medicine nursing social work chaplaincy and primary care
