Translated from the original French publication this book provides a comprehensive analysis of 20th century Chinese literature and examines the relationship between Chinese literary theory and modernity The author surveys the work of leading writers including Zhang Ailing Beidao and Mu Dan The author seeks to answer some fundamental questions in the study of Chinese literary history such as How does contemporary Chinese literature go from historical narrative to the narrative of the I where rhythm and epic merge into writing and where the instinctive load of the rhythm substantiates the epic What are the steps and the forms of mediation that allow such a transition Is the subject the only agent of the transition What is its status What is the role of poetic language that led to the birth of the subject and which separates it from empiricism What are the difficulties faced by Chinese writers today Young Chinese writers set off in search of a totally new writing to rediscover subjectivity which is in no way limited to literature it also covers areas such as the law and the expression of the I confronted to an overpowering we Around the World in 80 Books David Damrosch, 2021-11-16 A set out to counter a pandemic's restrictions on travel by exploring eighty exceptional books from around the globe. Following a literary itinerary from London to Venice, Tehran and points beyond and via authors from Woolf and Dante to Nobel Prize winners Orhan Pamuk, Wole Soyinka, Mo Yan and Olga Tokarczuk, he explores how these works have shaped our idea of the world and the ways in which the world bleeds into literature. To chart the expansive landscape of world literature today, Damrosch explores how writers live in two very different worlds: the world of their personal experience and the world of books that have enabled great writers to give shape and meaning to their lives. In his literary cartography, Damrosch includes compelling contemporary works as well as perennial classics, hard-bitten crime fiction as well as haunting works of fantasy and the formative tales that introduce us as children to the world we're entering. Taken together, these eighty titles offer us a fresh perspective on enduring problems: from the social consequences of epidemics to the rising inequality that Thomas More designed Utopia to combat, as well as the patriarchal structures within and against which many of these books' heroines have to struggle, from the work of Murasaki Shikibu a millennium ago to Margaret Atwood today. Around the World in 80 Books is a global invitation to look beyond ourselves and our surroundings and to see our world and its literature in new ways.

Modern Chinese literature has been flourishing for over a century with varying degrees of intensity and energy at different junctures of history and points of locale. An integral part of world literature from the moment it was born, it has been in constant dialogue with its counterparts from the rest of the world. As it has been challenged and enriched by external influences, it has contributed to the wealth of literary culture of the entire world. In terms of themes and styles, modern Chinese literature is rich and varied: from the revolutionary to the pastoral, from romanticism to feminism, from modernism to post-modernism, critical realism, psychological realism, socialist realism and magical realism. Indeed, it encompasses a full range of ideological and aesthetic concerns. The A to Z of Modern Chinese Literature presents a broad perspective on the development and history of literature in modern China. It offers a chronology, introduction, bibliography and over 300 cross-referenced dictionary entries on authors, literary and historical developments, trends, genres and concepts that played a central role in the evolution of modern Chinese literature.
