Drawing as a Way of Knowing in Art and Science Gemma Anderson-Tempini, 2017-10-01 In recent history the arts and sciences have often been considered opposing fields of study but a growing trend in drawing research is beginning to bridge this divide Gemma Anderson's Drawing as a Way of Knowing in Art and Science introduces tested ways in which drawing as a research practice can enhance morphological insight specifically within the natural sciences mathematics and art Inspired and informed by collaboration with contemporary scientists and Goethe's studies of morphology as well as the work of artist Paul Klee this book presents drawing as a means of developing and disseminating knowledge and of understanding and engaging with the diversity of natural and theoretical forms such as animal vegetable mineral and four dimensional shapes Anderson shows that drawing can offer a means of scientific discovery and can be integral to the creation of new knowledge in science as well as in the arts Art Is a Spiritual Path Pat B. Allen, 2005-08-09 Art is a spiritual path not a religion but a practice that helps us knit together the ideals and convictions that guide our lives Creating art can be prayer ritual and remembrance of the Divine And the sharing of this creativity with others in small groups can serve as sanctuary asylum ashram therapy group think tank and village square Pat Allen has developed a reliable guide for walking the path of art through a series of simple practices that combine drawing painting and sculpture with journal writing Designed for readers at any level of artistic experience the book shows how to awaken the creative force and connect with the divine source of creativity access inner wisdom and intuition about life issues including both personal and community concerns find a path to meaning that includes honoring celebrating and giving thanks explore the images and symbols of traditions such as Catholicism Judaism shamanism and Goddess worship join in spiritual community with others who are following the path of art discover that artmaking can help us live our ideals and be of service in the world Detailed examples from the author s own practice of art plus the stories and images of several other people are presented to illustrate how art becomes a spiritual path in action At the author s virtual studio www.patballen.com readers can post their images and writings communicate with the author and subscribe to an electronic newsletter The site also contains an archive of the images in this book in full color

Zones of Re-membering Don Gifford, 2011-03 Don Gifford in Zones of Re membering shows clearly thoughtfully yet entertainingly how no one explanation will account for the depth and complexity of human experience and its grounding in Memory Because consciousness is a function of Memory life without Memory is no life at all as Alzheimer s all too frequently demonstrates Both our individual and collective Memory is stored in the arts he contends which in turn provide a way of knowing and of nourishing Memory and consciousness Memory like language is never really stable or accurate but appears as narrative and these narratives collectively form our entire culture For Gifford the profoundest explorer of the human consciousness time and memory is James Joyce and in its range of reference wit and humanity the spirit of Joyce permeates this book

Art-Based Supervision Barbara J. Fish, 2016-06-23 Art Based Supervision is a unique text for graduate supervision classes and seminars as well as a resource for post graduate supervisors and practitioners It offers a new view of supervision one that incorporates both images and words as tools to investigate and communicate the interactions that occur in therapy and in the systems in which clinicians work The fundamental principles of supervision provided in the book are useful for anyone interested in exploring the use of images to support reflection understanding and empathy in their work Full color images further enrich the narrative In addition to supervision courses Art based Supervision may be used for introductory art therapy psychology social work and counseling courses for readers interested in a broad range of intimate examples of the challenges of therapeutic work and the use of response art to grasp nuanced communication

Radical Human Ecology Rose Roberts, 2016-04-08 Human ecology the study and practice of relationships between the natural and the social environment has gained prominence as scholars seek more effectively to engage with pressing global concerns In the past seventy years most human ecology has skirted the fringes of geography sociology and biology This volume pioneers radical new directions In particular it explores the power of indigenous and traditional peoples epistemologies both to critique and to complement insights from modernity and postmodernity Aimed at an international readership its contributors show that an inter cultural and transdisciplinary approach is required The demands of our era require a scholarship of ontological depth an approach that can not just debate issues but also address questions of practice and meaning Organized into three sections Head Heart and Hand this volume covers the following key research areas Theories of Human Ecology Indigenous and Wisdom Traditions Eco spiritual Epistemologies and Ontology Research practice in Human Ecology The researcher researched relationship Research priorities for a holistic world With the study of human ecology becoming increasingly imperative this comprehensive volume will be a valuable addition for classroom use

Ways of Knowing Mark Harris, 2007-10-01 That there are multiple ways of knowing the world has become a truism What meaning is left in the sheer familiarity of the phrase The essays here consider how humans come to know themselves and their worlds Should anthropologists should seek complexity or simplicity in their analyses of other societies By going beyond the notion that a way of knowing is a perspective on the world this book explores paths to understanding as people travel along them craft their knowledge and shape experience The topics examined here range from illness to ignorance teaching undergraduates in Scotland to learning a Brazilian martial arts dance Hegels concept of the dialectic to the poetry of a Swahili philosopher A central concern is how anthropologists can know and write about the silent the concealed and the embodied

Mental Health and Higher Education in Australia Abraham P. Francis, Margaret Anne Carter, 2022-03-12 This book addresses a broad range of issues related to mental health in higher education in Australia with specific reference to student and staff well being It examines the challenges of creating and sustaining more resilient cultures within higher education and the community Showcasing some of Australia s unique experiences the authors present a multidisciplinary perspective of mental health supports and services relevant to the higher education landscape This book examines the different ways Australian higher education institutions responded are responding to the COVID 19 pandemic with reference to domestic and international students Through the exploration of practice and research the authors add to the rich discourses on well being in the higher education
