Constitutional Principles

B. Principle Examples. In this activity, you will read five things that were said or written around the time the Constitution was created. Follow the instructions for each one.

1) During the debate over the Constitution, James Madison made this argument in an essay we now call The Federalist 45:

"The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and indefinite."

a. Which principle best describes Madison's argument about the federal government?

- ☐ Popular Sovereignty
- ☐ Checks and Balances
- ☐ Limited Government
- ☐ Rule of Law
- ☐ Separation of Powers

c. Explain the connection between what Madison said and the principle you selected:

b. Underline the words or phrases that helped you decide which principle to choose.

2) In The Federalist 25, James Madison explained this:

"The House of Representatives, like that of one branch at least of all the State legislatures, is elected immediately by the great body of the people. The Senate, like the present Congress, and the Senate of Maryland, derives its appointment indirectly from the people. The President is indirectly chosen from the choice of the people, according to the example in most of the States. Even the judges, with all other officers of the Union, will, as in the several States, be the choice, though a remote choice, of the people themselves."

a. Which principle best describes Madison's argument about the federal government?

- ☐ Popular Sovereignty
- ☐ Checks and Balances
- ☐ Limited Government
- ☐ Rule of Law
- ☐ Separation of Powers

c. Explain the connection between what Madison said and the principle you selected:

b. Underline the words or phrases that helped you decide which principle to choose.
