Alan Colquhoun Modern Architecture:

Modern Architecture Alan Colquhoun, 2002 In this study of the international modern movement in architecture Alan Colquhoun explores the complex motivations behind its revolutionary new style and assesses its triumphs and failures

Essays in Architectural Criticism Alan Colquhoun, 1981 Preface by Kenneth Frampton Winner of the 1985 Architectural Critics Award for the best book published on architectural criticism over the past three years Since the early 1950s Alan Colquhoun's criticism and theory have acted as a conscience to a generation of architects His rigor and conceptual clarity have consistently stimulated debate and have served as an impetus for the pursuit of new directions in both theory and practice This collection of 17 of his essays marks a watershed in the development of architectural thinking over the past three decades comprising a virtual theory of Modernism in architecture In his earliest essays Colquhoun concentrated on themes that for him comprised the modernist attitude in architecture language typology and the structure of form His stance since then has consistently been to try to relate these issues to current practice and to analyze the nature of architectural expression in relation to culture Alan Colquhoun divides his time between England where he is a principal in the firm of Colquhoun Miller and the United States where he is Professor of Architecture at Princeton University An Oppositions Book Tall Buildings Guy Nordenson, 2003 Accompanies an exhibition at MoMA QNS July 16 September 27 2004

Alan Colquhoun Tom Avermaete, Christoph Grafe, Hans Teerds, 2012 OASE 87 is dedicated to the thinking and the position of British architect Alan Colquhoun situated within today's debate on architecture criticism The issue presents not only the different themes that Colquhoun has addressed in his work but also the various positions that he has taken in his career scholar critic and practitioner Alan Colquhoun b 1921 has managed for decades to link his practical experiences with a particular way of thinking about architecture history and theory Colquhoun has been making his mark since the 1950s with constructive contributions to the discourse and the theorization of architecture He has written such trendsetting books as The Oxford History of Modern Architecture Essays in Architectural Criticism and Modernity and The Classical Tradition Colquhoun's work illustrates that architecture even today needs its own theory and cultural position Modern

A Critical History of Contemporary Architecture Elie G. Haddad, David Rifkind, 2016-12-05 1960 following as it did the last CIAM meeting signalled a turning point for the Modern Movement. From then on architecture was influenced by seminal texts by Aldo Rossi and Robert Venturi and gave rise to the first revisionary movement following Modernism. Bringing together leading experts in the field, this book provides a comprehensive critical overview of the developments in architecture from 1960 to 2010. It consists of two parts: the first section providing a presentation of major movements in architecture after 1960 and the second a geographic survey that covers a wide range of territories around the world. This book not only reflects the different perspectives of its various authors but also charts a middle course between the aesthetic histories that examine architecture solely in terms of its formal aspects and the more ideological histories that subject it to a critique that often skirts the discussion of its formal aspects.

"Symbolic Essence" and Other Writings on Modern Architecture and American Culture William H. Jordy, University Professor of Art William H. Jordy, Mardges Bacon, 2005-01-01. The Symbolic Essence of Modern European Architecture of the Twenties and Its Continuing Influence: this collection contains critical writings on works by Mies Corbusier Kahn and Venturi as well as one previously unpublished text. Jordy leads readers to discover important connections of architecture with art literature intellectual history symbolic structures social purpose and community. He significantly shaped the way we understand the character and meaning of modern architecture and American culture.

Nelson Goodman and Modern Architecture Kasper Lægning, 2024-07-19. This book orchestrates a convergence of two discourses from the 1960s: Nelson Goodman's aesthetic theory on one side and critiques of modern architecture articulated by figures like Peter Blake Charles Jencks and Robert Venturi Denise Scott Brown on the other. Grounded in Goodman's aesthetic theory, the book explores his conceptual framework within the context of modern architecture. At the heart of the investigation lies Goodman's concept of exemplification. While his notion of denotation pertains to representational elements often ornaments in architecture, exemplification accentuates specific formal properties at the expense of others including color spatial orientation transparency seriality and the like. Supplemented by findings from phenomenology, the book traces these effects in buildings notably those by Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Walter Gropius Le Corbusier and Frank Lloyd Wright, all key figures in the critiques of modern architecture. Employing Goodman's framework, the book aims to address accusations of emptiness and alienation directed at modern architecture in the postwar era. It illustrates that modern architecture symbolizes aesthetically in a fundamentally different way than architecture from earlier periods. This book will be of interest to architects artists researchers and students in architecture architectural history theory cultural theory philosophy and aesthetics.

Modern Architecture and Climate Daniel A. Barber, 2023-04-11. How climate influenced the design strategies of modernist architects. Modern Architecture and Climate explores how leading architects of the twentieth century incorporated climate mediating strategies into their designs and shows how regional approaches to climate adaptability were essential to the development of modern architecture. Focusing on the period surrounding World War II before fossil fuel powered air conditioning became widely available, Daniel Barber brings to light a vibrant and dynamic architectural discussion involving design materials and shading systems as means of interior climate control. He looks at projects by well known architects such as Richard Neutra, Le Corbusier, Lúcio Costa, Mies van der Rohe and Skidmore, Owings and Merrill and the work of climate focused architects such as MMM, Roberto Olgyay and Olgyay and Cliff May. Drawing on the editorial projects of James Marston Fitch, Elizabeth Gordon and others, he demonstrates how images and diagrams produced by architects helped conceptualize climate knowledge alongside the work of meteorologists, physicists, engineers and social scientists. Barber describes how this novel type of environmental media catalyzed new ways of thinking about climate and architectural design. Extensively illustrated with archival material, Modern Architecture and Climate provides global perspectives on modern architecture and its evolving relationship with a changing climate, showcasing designs from Latin America, Europe, the United States, the Middle East and Africa. This timely and important book reconciles the cultural dynamism of architecture with the material realities of ever increasing carbon emissions from the mechanical cooling systems of buildings and offers a historical foundation for today's zero carbon design.
