Perse Playbooks: Plays and poems, with a preface by W.H.D. Rouse, and an essay, "Playwrights or playwrights?" by H. Caldwell Cook ,1913

Wordsworth's Poetry, 1815-1845 Tim Fulford, 2019-02-08 The later poetry of William Wordsworth popular in his lifetime and influential on the Victorians has with a few exceptions received little attention from contemporary literary critics In Wordsworth s Poetry 1815 1845 Tim

Fulford argues that the later work reveals a mature poet far more varied and surprising than is often acknowledged. Examining the most characteristic poems in their historical contexts he shows Wordsworth probing the experiences and perspectives of later life and innovating formally and stylistically. He demonstrates how Wordsworth modified his writing in light of conversations with younger poets and learned to acknowledge his debt to women in ways he could not as a young man. The older Wordsworth emerges in Fulford's depiction as a love poet of companionate tenderness rather than passionate lament. He also appears as a political poet bitter at capitalist exploitation and at a society in which vanity is rewarded while poverty is blamed. Most notably he stands out as a history poet more probing and more clear sighted than any of his time in his understanding of the responsibilities and temptations of all who try to memorialize the past. Perse Playbooks ...: Plays and poems by boys of the Perse School Perse school, Cambridge, Eng, 1913. Basic Bookbinding A. W. Lewis, 1957-01-01. Describes tools, basic materials and the simple techniques and processes for cloth bookbinding in the library style.

Bookbinding Magazine, 1929. A New Framework for Building Participation in the Arts Kevin F. McCarthy, Kimberly J. Jinnett, 2001-06-28. Arts organizations across the country are actively expanding their efforts to increase public participation in their programs. This report presents the findings of a RAND study sponsored by the Wallace Reader's Digest Funds that looks at the process by which individuals become involved in the arts and attempts to identify ways in which arts institutions can most effectively influence this process. The report presents a behavioral model that identifies the main factors influencing individual decisions about the arts based on site visits to institutions that have been particularly successful in attracting participants to their programs and in depth interviews with the directors of more than 100 institutions that have received grants from the Wallace Reader's Digest Funds and the Knight Foundation to encourage greater involvement in the arts. The model and a set of guidelines to help institutions approach the task of participation building constitute a framework that can assist in devising participation building approaches that fit with an institution's overall purpose and mission, its available resources and the community environment in which it operates. In other words, a framework that will enable arts institutions to take an integrative approach to building participation in the arts.
