Adam Silverman Ceramics:

Adam Silverman Adam Silverman, 2013 Adam Silverman is the face of a new generation of ceramics and pottery a medium that has not had major presence in the contemporary art world museum or gallery scene for many years Incorporating traditional pottery techniques with his own experimental approach Silverman creates works that are minimal yet substantial sensual gritty and beautiful He is known to create unique glazes in order to achieve a finish that might bubble or foam or grind into the surface of a fired piece to reveal the layers and textures below creating a surface with lacey or abstract gestural surfaces This book is dedication to his work

Adam Silverman Adam Silverman, 2016 Known for his sculptural vessels and richly textured glazes Adam Silverman is among the most dynamic practitioners dedicated to ceramics today Silverman brings an architect's sense of structure to his objects and utilizes personal and sophisticated techniques to glaze and fire his works Provided by publisher

Adam Silverman: Common Ground, 2023-06-20 A celebration of multicultural collaboration through contemporary ceramics and exquisite whimsical ikebana arrangements Adam Silverman creates ambitious ceramic work with site specific materials that engage their places of origin Similar to a chef cooking with local ingredients his works are infused with the history culture issues and spirit of a place In the fall of 2019 before the coronavirus pandemic swept the globe Silverman began a project to address the political and cultural divisions in America Silverman collected materials clay wood ash and water from every state and inhabited US territory and combined them into a single new fully integrated material This material was then used to create 56 ceremonial vessels that celebrate the nation's radical inclusivity and diversity A series of 56 Ikebana arrangements made by students at Sogetsu Ikebana Los Angeles are placed in Silverman's vessels creating a powerful pairing of American materials and symbols with Japanese traditions Adam Silverman born 1963 is a Los Angeles based artist known for his experimental processes and resulting sculptural vessels He is regarded as one of the most dynamic practitioners dedicated to ceramics today Silverman received received bachelor degrees in both fine art and architecture from the Rhode Island School of Design

New Wave Clay Tom Morris, 2018 New Wave Clay unpicks the zeitgeist and aesthetic of an exciting discipline with intelligence insight and indulgence Against the backdrop of the digital age and shiny screens a whole new generation of craftspeople designers and artists are realizing the pleasure of working with clay and bringing a fresh perspective to the material Today there is a lively crossover between craft design sculpture and technology that is rethinking ceramics what you can make with it what it looks like and who makes it New Wave Clay is a global survey of 55 imaginative ceramicists that are leading this craft revival They include classically trained potters who create design led pieces product designers who use clay as a means of creative expression as well as fine artists architects decorators illustrators sculptors and graphic designers Their collective output goes far beyond pots into ceramic furniture sculpture murals wall reliefs small scale architecture and 3D printing The book is divided into four thematic sections and features special contributions from Edmund de Waal Hella Jongerius Grayson Perry Martin Brudnizki and Sarah Griffin discussing craft industry ornament decorating and collecting New Wave Clay is an image led dynamic study of the exciting new generation jumpstarting this age old art Features A 296 page survey of 55 international ceramicists who bridge the worlds of product design interiors fine art and luxury craftsmanship Four thematic chapters are accompanied by interviews and written contributions on the subject from designers decorators and collectors Richly illustrated New Wave Clay is an image led dynamic book that aims to demonstrate the contemporary condition of this age old art Instead of focusing on traditional craft ware and functional pieces this title focuses on the community of ceramicists who create design led works
