ASHRAE Handbook & Product Directory, 1975 Air-conditioning System Design Manual Walter T. Grondzik, 2007 The Air Conditioning Manual assists entry level engineers in the design of air conditioning systems It is also usable in conjunction with fundamental HVAC R resource material as a senior or graduate level text for a university course in HVAC system design The manual was written to fill the void between theory and practice to bridge the gap between real world design practices and the theoretical calculations and analytical procedures or on the design of components This second edition represents an update and revision of the manual It now features the use of SI units throughout updated references and the editing of many illustrations Helps engineers quickly come up with a design solution to a required air conditioning system Includes issues from comfort to cooling load calculations New sections on Green HVAC systems deal with hot topic of sustainable buildings

Spitler, 2009 The Load Calculation Applications Manual builds upon three previous ASHRAE publications that focus on the calculation of cooling and heating loads for commercial buildings Whether you are a new engineer who is learning how to do load calculations or a veteran who wishes to learn the radiant time series RTS method this book is a must have resource Outlined in the manual are two methods for calculating cooling loads in nonresidential buildings the heat balance HB method and the RTS method Both methods were first fully presented for use in design load calculations in the predecessor to this volume Cooling and Heating Load Calculation Principles But much has changed since the book was first published in 1998 The Load Calculation Applications Manual steps in where the last book left off to provide you with the latest information regarding load calculations In the book s early chapters an overview of the heat transfer processes present in buildings and a brief discussion of how they are analyzed together in order to determine the cooling load are provided Later chapters focus on the theory and application of the RTS method systems and psychrometrics heating load calculations and the HB method and its implementation The accompanying CD contains Microsoft Excel spreadsheets that compute cooling loads using the RTS method These spreadsheets calculate the solar irradiation conduction time factor series and radiant time factors utilized by the method Plus you can adapt the spreadsheets to compute cooling loads for a wide range of buildings Plumbing, Heating, Piping ,1991-02 An Introduction to Solar Photovoltaic Systems J.
