Baptism And Christian Identity Teaching In The Triune Name:

Baptism and Christian Identity Gordon S. Mikoski, 2009-07-02 In this book Gordon Mikoski examines how the sacrament of baptism the doctrine of the Trinity and the practice of Christian education together constitute a dynamic nexus that has the potential to foster congregations marked by the formation of both deep Christian identity and creative engagement in public arenas for the common good After establishing the necessity of holding baptism Trinity and ecclesial pedagogy together through his careful study of both Gregory of Nyssa and John Calvin Mikoski outlines how this nexus can function for contemporary Christian communities as they carry out the work of educational ministry He then explores the dynamics of faith formation in the contemporary American context concluding with a suggestive treatment of implications of the baptism Trinity pedagogy nexus for the educational ministry of a given congregation

The Roman Catholic Church and Its Recognition of the Validity of Baptism in the Name of Jesus (Acts 2:38) from 100 A.D. to 500 A.D. Kulwant Singh Boora, 2011-08-08 The patristic period saw the shift towards baptism in the trinitarian form being a later liturgical development the original form being in the name of Jesus Christ Acts 2:38 It is granted that documentary evidence has been preserved quite remarkably from the patristic period to at least the fifth century that shows and demonstrates the recognition of baptism in the name of Jesus by the Roman Catholic Church To such an extent that even the Roman Catholic Church has noted the validity of baptism in the name of Jesus in a recent call for ecumenical dialogue Roman Catholic scholars and theologians alike are in agreement with the baptismal formula of the name of Jesus and make no pretense about it to the degree that even during the Ante Nicene period we find a trail of individuals who baptized in the name of Jesus flowing from period of the early Greek apologist s The patristic era to the fifth century will present a large body of literature that convincingly shows baptism in the name of Jesus being validly recognized even within literature housed within the collection of writings of St Cyprian Bishop of Carthage who was said to oppose such a practice The Roman Catholic Church at large voiced through its religious leaders Church Fathers Pope and theologians within this period have noted the original form of baptism being in the name of Jesus thereby continuing to acknowledge its validity and recognition pastor and leader of Christian worship The Sign of the Gospel W. Travis McMaken, 2013-08-01 The theology of the sacraments is one of the most contested parts in Barth's theology none more so than the doctrine of baptism Barth's proposals on baptism have generated intense conversation and disagreement not only on its application to Protestant and ecumenical theology but even on its own consistency with Barth's larger dogmatic project McMaken takes up this controversial question sets it in its proper context within the history of doctrine and Barth's systematic work and argues for a constructive reclamation of infant baptism that accords with Barth's overarching theological concerns and insights notably from Barth's mature theological commitments Pivotal to this volume claims that a reorientation of the doctrine of baptism opens up a new perspective on the practice of infant baptism on the basis of Barth's theology this new perspective as well holds the potential for wide ecumenical application as a form of the proclamation of the gospel and a vital dimension of the church's missional vocation A commanding volume for scholars and students in systematic theology ecumenical studies and sacramental theology Leading through the Water Paul Galbreath, 2011-04-29 In Leading through the Water Paul Galbreath demonstrates one way of linking baptismal practice to daily life as congregations provide an alternative witness to the cultural voices around us At the same time it expands the vision of baptism from a single occasion to a distinctive way of life within a community of faith and a primary metaphor for Christian discipleship In concert with Leading from the Table Galbreath continues to explore how the sacraments of baptism and communion connect with the world around us He is concerned that we too often separate church life from daily life marginalizing the gospel and the good news that God is with us at all times and places in our lives Here Galbreath explores Christian discipleship through baptism imagery in Scripture history and experience and identifies patterns of baptismal formation that guide the choices we make each day He follows the individual's journey through baptism beginning with inquiry through the preparation for baptism the event of baptism itself and a time of discernment following baptism This book will prompt conversations in congregations and classrooms about the ways that our distinct communities of faith can embody the gospel in the world and point to God's faithful presence Who

The Crisis of Christian Nationalism Allen K. Shin, Larry R. Benfield, 2024-10-01 An urgent call for awareness of the dangers of Christian nationalism including the origins and implications In 2022 Bishop Curry charged the House of Bishops Theology Committee to study Christian nationalism an issue that has increasingly come to the forefront of conversations surrounding Christianity democracy and white supremacy The committee's methodology in an Anglican framework of scripture tradition reason and liturgy sheds light on the foundation of the movement and a path forward They argue that it is sinful and violates the first and second of the Ten Commandments Through careful examination of Christian Nationalism the Theology Committee warns members of the church not to fall into its trap but instead to be a light to the world

The Logic of the Spirit in Human Thought and Experience Dana R. Wright, Keith J. White, 2014-09-18 In March 2012 a small consultation convened on the campus of Princeton Theological Seminary where James E Loder Jr had served for forty years as the Mary D Synnott Professor of the Philosophy of Christian Education Members from the Child Theology Movement had begun to read Loder's work and they wanted to go further So they invited former students of Loder's to meet with them for conversations about things that really mattered to them and to Loder human beings and especially children the church's witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ and discerning the work of Spiritus Creator in the postmodern world The conversations proved rich and rewarding and some would even say they took on a life of their own serious scholarship set to the music of the Spirit's communion creating artistry forming new relationships inspiring new ideas and sustaining all of it amid much laughter joy and hope These essays taken from the papers delivered at the consultation are offered as a means of extending that conversation inspired by Loder's
