Cultural Values in Strategy and Organization T. K. Das, 2021-06-01 The field of strategy science has grown in both the diversity of issues it addresses and the increasingly interdisciplinary approaches it adopts in understanding the nature and significance of problems that are continuously emerging in the world of human endeavor These newer kinds of challenges and opportunities arise in all forms of organizations encompassing private and public enterprises and with strategies that experiment with breaking the traditional molds and contours The field of strategy science is also perhaps inevitably being impacted by the proliferation of hybrid organizations such as strategic alliances the upsurge of approaches that go beyond the customary emphasis on competitiveness and profit making and the intermixing of time honored categories of activities such as business industry commerce trade government the professions and so on The blurring of the boundaries between various areas and types of human activities points to a need for academic research to address the consequential developments in strategic issues Hence research and thinking about the nature of issues to be tackled by strategy science should also cultivate requisite variety in issues recognized for research inquiry including the conceptual foundations of strategy and strategy making and the examination of the critical roles of strategy makers strategic thinking time and temporalities business and other goal choices diversity in organizing modes for strategy implementation and the complexities of managing strategy to name a few This book series on Research in Strategy Science aims to provide an outlet for ideas and issues that publications in the field do not provide either expressly or adequately especially as regards the comprehensive coverage deserved by certain emerging areas of interest The topics of the volumes in the series will keep in view this objective to expand the research areas and theoretical approaches routinely found in strategy science the better to permit expanded and expansive treatments of promising issues that may not sufficiently align with the usual research coverage of publications in the field Cultural Values in Strategy and Organization contains contributions by leading scholars on the role of cultural values in the field of strategy science research The 11 chapters in this volume cover the topics of ecological organizing and evolving cultural values corporate cultural responsibility cultural integration in mergers and acquisitions culture and paradoxical frames cultural values in the fair trade market national culture and legitimacy family businesses as values driven organizations cultural intelligence of executives building an alliance culture personal values of civil engineers and architects and cultural characteristics of Chilean and Brazilian workforces The chapters collectively present a wide ranging review of the noteworthy research perspectives on the role of cultural values in strategy and organization

Boudreau,Ravin Jesuthasan,David Creelman,2015-07-10 A detailed look at the evolution of employment and its far reaching implications Lead the Work takes an incisive look at the evolving nature of work and how it s affecting management and productivity at the organizational level Where getting things done once meant assigning it to an employee today s leaders are increasingly at risk if they fail to recognize that talent can float into and out of an organization Long term employment has given way to medium or short term employment marking the first step in severing the bond that once fixed an individual inside an organization Getting work done by means other than an employee was once considered a fringe event but now leading organizations are accepting and taking advantage of the notion that talent has shown itself to be mutable This book explores this phenomenon in detail and provides a new roadmap to help managers navigate this new environment The workplace has undergone many changes over the years but the emerging trend away from traditional employment represents a massive shift that has profound implications for the business model of every organization large or small This book describes how management is changing and how managers must adapt to survive Examine the dispersed organization and the changing nature of employment Learn how work is becoming impermanent and individualized Find new strategies for managing and leading Get up to speed on the decision science for the new era Workplaces evolve like biological beings only the strong survive and it s the competitive edge that ensures continued success Lead the Work describes the new landscape and shows you how to adapt and thrive Positioning Higher Education Institutions Rosalind M. O. Pritchard,Attila Pausits,James Williams,2016-09-26 Higher education is of growing public and political importance for society and the economy Globalisation is transforming it from a local and national concern into one of international significance In order to fulfil societal governmental and business sector needs many universities are aiming to re position themselves The book initially considers their compass They aspire to transformational planning mission and strategy in which social justice is important people are not treated as mere means to an end and traditional moral positions are respected This transformational urge is sometimes vitiated by blunt demands of new public management that overlook universities potential for serving the public good The volume then addresses universities success in meeting their targets Often the challenge in evaluation is the need to reconcile tensions for example between structure and pastoral care of students institutional competition and collaboration roles of academics and administrators performance based funding versus increased differentiation Measurement is supposed to provide discipline align institutional and state policy and provide a vital impetus for change Yet many of these measurement instruments are not fully fit for purpose They do not take sufficient account of institutional missions either of old or of specialist universities and sophisticated measurement of the student experience requires massive resources Change and positioning have become increasingly key elements of a complex but heterogeneous sector requiring new services and upgraded instruments Strategic Alliance Management Brian Tjemkes,Pepijn Vos,Koen Burgers,2023-06-27 Strategic Alliance Management presents an academically grounded alliance development framework detailing eight stages of alliance development with consideration for specific management challenges For each stage readers are presented with theoretical insights evidence based managerial guidelines and a business case illustration Other chapters consider alliance attributes alliance competences and alliance challenges and cover topics such as innovation co branding co opetition business ecosystems alliance professionals alliance capabilities societal alliances and a tension based alliance mindset This fully revised 3rd edition leverages the book s strengths in marrying theory with practical insight All the chapters have been updated to reflect the current academic literature whilst new international case studies are incorporated throughout Two new chapters feature in this edition considering the importance of the mindset required to successfully navigate alliance arrangements and emerging alliance practices exploring how new technologies sustainability and the external environment have disrupted alliance management In chapter text boxes discussing emerging themes provide opportunity for discussion and analysis The textbook remains highly valuable core and recommended reading for postgraduate students of Strategic Management and Corporate Strategy MBA and Executive MBA as well as reflective practitioners in the field Online resources include chapter by chapter lecture slides two long case studies and short interviews with alliance executives
