Assessing For Learning Building A Sustainable Commitment Across The Institution:

Assessing for Learning Peggy L. Maki, 2023-07-03 While there is consensus that institutions need to represent their educational effectiveness through documentation of student learning the higher education community is divided between those who support national standardized tests to compare institutions educational effectiveness and those who believe that valid assessment of student achievement is based on assessing the work that students produce along and at the end of their educational journeys This book espouses the latter philosophy what Peggy Maki sees as an integrated and authentic approach to providing evidence of student learning based on the work that students produce along the chronology of their learning She believes that assessment needs to be humanized as opposed to standardized to take into account the demographics of institutions as students do not all start at the same place in their learning Students also need the tools to assess their own progress In addition to updating and expanding the contents of her first edition to reflect changes in assessment practices and developments over the last seven years such as the development of technology enabled assessment methods and the national need for institutions to demonstrate that they are using results to improve student learning Maki focuses on ways to deepen program and institution level assessment within the context of collective inquiry about student learning Recognizing that assessment is not initially a linear start up process or even necessarily sequential and recognizing that institutions develop processes appropriate for their mission and culture this book does not take a prescriptive or formulaic approach to building this commitment What it does present is a framework with examples of processes and strategies to assist faculty staff administrators and campus leaders to develop a sustainable and shared core institutional process that deepens inquiry into what and how students learn to identify and improve patterns of weakness that inhibit learning This book is designed to assist colleges and universities build a sustainable commitment to assessing student learning at both the institution and program levels It provides the tools for collective inquiry among faculty staff administrators and students to develop evidence of students abilities to integrate apply and transfer learning as well as to construct their own meaning Each chapter also concludes with 1 an Additional Resources section that includes references to meta sites with further resources so users can pursue particular issues in greater depth and detail and 2 worksheets guides and exercises designed to build collaborative ownership of assessment The second edition now covers Strategies to connect students to an institution s or a program s assessment commitment Description of the components of a comprehensive institutional commitment that engages the institution educators and students all as learners Expanded coverage of direct and indirect assessment methods including technology enabled methods that engage students in the process New case studies and campus examples covering undergraduate graduate education and the co curriculum New chapter with case studies that presents a framework for a backward designed problem based assessment process anchored in answering open ended research or study questions that lead to improving pedagogy and educational practices Integration of developments across

Assessing Writing, Assessing Learning Dudley W. Reynolds,2010-06-07 The goals of this resource are broader than many standard books on writing assessment which focus on evaluating an individual s ability to create an effective piece of writing for a particular purpose Assessing Writing Assessing Learning seeks to support teachers administrators program directors and funding entities who want to make the best use of the resources at their disposal to understand what students are learning and why and then take actions based on what they have learned It also seeks to provide a common basis for communication among all the interested parties the writing professionals the people who identified the need for the program and the students The book has sections on planning tools different ways of collecting data and links to instruments and reporting examples provided Each section includes a discussion of issues and advice for working through the issue along with numerous examples plus a list of resources to consult to learn more The final chapter provides worksheets that may be reproduced and used to help those in charge of setting up and delivering a writing program to think through the issues presented A glossary of terms is also included

Higher Education Outcomes Assessment for the Twenty-First Century Peter Hernon,Robert E. Dugan,Candy Schwartz,2013-05-09 This book discusses recent trends in outcomes assessment examines how state governments are reshaping the national discussion with higher education and explains how libraries must respond to these changes Higher Education Outcomes Assessment for the Twenty first Century focuses on recent developments in outcomes assessment especially from the perspectives of the federal government and state governments as well as foundations concerned about the state of higher education The authors identify the significant changes that these stakeholders call for information that academic librarians and anyone following outcomes assessment need to be aware of and interpret the discussions to identify implications for libraries Building upon the foundation of knowledge presented in the previous two Libraries Unlimited Outcomes Assessment in Higher Education titles this book provides readers with up to date coverage of topics such as the emerging metrics used to define student and institutional success the increased importance of accountability and the need to compare and assess the performance of programs and institutions rather than individual courses and the shift in prioritizing student outcomes over student learning outcomes The authors also spotlight the critical need for libraries to fit their role within the national discussion and suggest ways in which library managers and directors can play a role in redirecting the discussion to their benefit

Assessing Student Learning in the Community and Two-Year College Megan Moore Gardner, Kimberly A. Kline, Marilee J. Bresciani Ludvik, 2023-07-03 This is a practical resource for community and two year college professionals engaged at all levels of learning outcomes assessment in both academic and co curricular environments It is designed as a guide both to inform the creation of new assessment efforts and to enhance and strengthen assessment programs already established or in development Each chapter addresses a key component of the assessment process beginning with the creation of a learning centered culture and the development and articulation of shared outcomes goals and priorities Subsequent chapters lead the reader through the development of a plan the selection of assessment methods and the analysis of results The book concludes by discussing the communication of results and their use in decision making integrating the conclusions in program review as well as to inform budgeting and finally evaluating the process for continuous improvement as well as engaging in reflection The book is illustrated by examples developed by faculty and student affairs services professionals at community and two year colleges from across the country Furthermore to ensure its relevance and applicability for its targeted readership each chapter has at least one author who is a community college or two year college professional Contributors are drawn from the following colleges Borough of Manhattan Community College David Phillips Buffalo State College Joy Battison Kimberly Kline Booker Piper Butler County Community College Sunday Faseyitan California State University Fullerton John Hoffman Genesee Community College Thomas Priester Virginia Taylor Heald College Megan Lawrence Stephanie Romano now with Education Affiliates Hobart and William Smith Colleges Stacey Pierce Miami Dade College John Frederick Barbara Rodriguez Northern Illinois University Victoria Livingston Paradise Valley Community College Paul Dale San Diego Mesa College Jill Baker Julianna Barnes San Diego State University Marilee Bresciani San Juan College David Eppich Stark State College Barbara Milliken University of Akron Sandra Coyner Megan Moore Gardner
