And Art Being Brilliant Classroom Assistant:

The Art of Being a Brilliant Classroom Assistant Gary Toward, Chris Henley, Andy Cope, 2016-02-26 The Art of Being a Brilliant Classroom Assistant is a new addition to the successful Art of Being Brilliant series There are many different names and acronyms for these amazing classroom practitioners teaching assistants TAs learning support assistants LSAs cover supervisors supply teachers student mentors higher level teaching assistants HLTAs learning partners the list goes on The title doesn't matter but the quality of support interaction and learning does Whether you work one to one with individual children support small groups or work with a whole class and whether you work in a primary secondary or special setting this book is packed with ideas to enhance your practice so you can best support children's learning while looking out for your own well being and enjoying your role You can dip in for top tips anecdotes practical strategies and advice on every aspect of the role as well as have a chuckle as you go For example did you know there is a patron saint for just about everything There is even a patron saint of failures Birgitta of Sweden who presumably failed to impress Ofsted on more than one occasion If you scour the list you'll find that every occupation has a nominated guardian looking after their well being That is except one classroom assistants So if there's nobody up there cheering you on you might need to find the resources within yourself and Andy Chris and Gary can help Because let's face it working with youngsters isn't for the faint-hearted is it What do you do if you are sworn at How do you engage a reluctant learner What about safeguarding How do you support children with SEND How do you handle a challenging parent How can you develop your career further These topics and a whole raft more are woven into this book which will set you on the road to brilliance It doesn't matter whether it's inspiration or new ideas you want this book has a plethora of both It may challenge your thinking it may persuade you to do something different and above all it will put you in serious danger of being brilliant at what you do There's nothing more important or vital than the education and development of our youngsters the mission of the Art of Being Brilliant series is to help all educators unlock their brilliance The Art of Being Brilliant series was a finalist in the 2017 Education Resources Awards in the Educational Book Award category

Celebrating Teachers Chris Henley, Gary Toward, 2021-07-05 Celebrating Teachers Making a difference written by Gary Toward and Chris Henley is a feel good celebration of all that is great about teachers and teaching and an exploration of the difference teachers make and how they do it Forewords by Ben Bailey Smith aka Doc Brown and Sir Anthony Seldon Gary Toward and Chris Henley believe that teaching is the best and most important profession Now you might argue that it would be medicine that should take that accolade as medics save lives and mend people But teachers create lives and make people They in fact create medics This book celebrates the superhero of the classroom the teacher Teachers make a difference and often that difference is life changing In this book Gary and Chris look at some of the many cases where such a difference has been made and examine exactly what it was that made such an impact on the life of the young person and they also highlight the key approaches that teachers might want to try out in their own classroom with their own pupils The authors link the real life case study stories to what educational research and cognitive science tell us and point the way for all teachers to adopt adapt and develop these effective strategies and approaches in their own practice And in sharing these inspiring stories Gary and Chris hope to offer an antidote to the negativity that too often circulates in the media around education and the teaching profession An uplifting and insightful read for all teachers and educators

The Decisive Element Gary Toward,Mick Malton,Chris Henley,2018-06-20 Foreword by Jaz Ampaw Farr Forget data Forget league tables Forget the national curriculum Teachers are the true weather gods in education The default outlook in schools at present however seems to be gloom Our schools staff are under relentless pressure and their ever increasing workloads can make it easy to forget about the humans they work with So what can teachers do to bring back the sunny weather and make pupils school lives more joyous Gary Mick and Chris believe that the answer lies in harnessing the power of praise and positivity In The Decisive Element they offer an uplifting antidote to the anxiety by sharing praise focused techniques that will help teachers and school leaders create an ethos of enthusiasm one that reduces stress fuels ambition and builds confidence for staff and pupils alike Crammed full of sound research fresh ideas and top tips this manifesto for positive mindsets celebrates the value of meaningful impactful praise and shines a light on the myriad ways positivity can be unleashed to spark pupils motivation and natural curiosity for learning The book draws upon the authors vast experience and anecdotal insights to provide sage guidance on how to create a self sustaining positive climate for learning and contains a wealth of practical strategies to ramp up the feel good factor in the school setting so that staff and pupils can feed off each other s enthusiasm It also flips the script on the stresses and strains of modern schooling by offering a more light hearted perspective on teachers and pupils day to day interactions encouraging school staff to be proud of what they do and empowering them to make an even bigger difference in the lives of the young people in their care Suitable for anyone lucky enough to work in education or with children The quoted text on the cover of this title has been extracted from Ginott H 1972 Teacher and Child A Book for parents and teachers NY Macmillan p 15 The Decisive Element has been named the Bronze Winner in the education category of the 2018 INDIES Book of the Year Awards The Art of Being a Brilliant Teacher Andy Cope,Gary Toward,Chris Henley,2015-03-26 Teaching is an art with the right techniques guidance skills and practice teachers can masterfully face any situation the classroom could throw at them With their fresh perspectives sage advice and a hint of silliness Andy Chris and Gary show teachers how to unleash their brilliance For any teacher who has ever had a class that are angels for colleagues but Lucifer incarnate as soon as they cross the threshold of their classroom Or who realised too late that their best laid lesson plans were doomed from the start Or who had their energy and enthusiasm sapped by a mood hovering staffroom Grinch These problems will be a thing of the past once they ve mastered the art of being a brilliant teacher With plenty of practical advice and top tips this book will show them how Click here to view other titles in our successful Art of Being Brilliant series The Art of Being Brilliant series was a finalist in the 2017 Education Resources
