Jürgen Böttcher and Documentary Film Elizabeth Daggett Matar, 2024-01-12 Jürgen Böttcher and Documentary Film introduces the reader to this east German filmmaker who despite having made 40 films from the east side of the Berlin Wall is practically unknown Through the comparison of films made in the same year one by an American and one by Böttcher the author places him as ahead of his time in regards to technology content and style and neck and neck with contemporary American filmmakers in cinema direct cinema The book moves beyond Bttcher's dramatic biography to explore his role in the history of film Was it actually the Germans who created sync sound for documentary When and how were women featured Offering a concise journey through the history of documentary film within this cultural context but also a deep dive into specific case studies that show the nuances and complexities of classifying film texts this volume will interest students and scholars of film studies German cinema cinema film production film theory and world cinema Fashioning History R. Berkhofer, 2008-12-08 This book offers historians and aspiring historians a learned absorbing and comprehensive overview of current fashions of method interpretation and meaning in the context of postmodernism that has washed over the historical profession in the last two decades Developing Story Ideas Michael Rabiger, 2016-07-01 The vast majority of screenplay and writing books that focus on story development have little to say about the initial concept that inspired the piece Developing Story Ideas The Power and Purpose of Storytelling Third Edition provides writers with ideational tools and resources to generate a wide variety of stories in a broad range of forms Celebrated filmmaker and author Michael Rabiger demonstrates how to observe situations and themes in the writer's own life experience and use these as the basis for original storytelling This new edition has been updated with chapters on adaptation improvisation and cast collaboration's roles in story construction as well as a companion website featuring further projects class assignments instructor resources and more Gain the practical tools and resources you need to spark your creativity and generate a wide variety of stories in a broad range of forms including screenplays documentaries novels short stories and plays Through hands on step by step exercises and group and individual assignments learn to use situations and themes from your own life experience dreams myth and the news as the basis for character driven storytelling harness methods of screenplay format dialogue plot structure and character development that will allow your stories to reach their fullest potential The Films of John Schlesinger Julia Prewitt Brown, 2019-08-24 The city with its manifold distractions and violence its invitation to intoxication and dream had long served to represent the experience of modernity in works of art at the time John Schlesinger made his acclaimed urban documentary Terminus in 1961 To be a reader of the city was to be a reader of modern life and Schlesinger was a discriminating at times relentless reader of the city throughout his career especially in his three greatest films Midnight Cowboy Sunday Bloody Sunday and The Day of the Locust set in New York London and Los Angeles respectively His character driven stories evocation of the significance of the everyday and insistence on ambiguities of situation and motive all qualities he was known for point to literary influences that reach back to the nineteenth century and earlier The Films of John Schlesinger is not only the first book to fully acknowledge those influences but also the first book to explicate the power of his art to capture the modern urban experiences of becoming an adult in an atmosphere that relentlessly promotes fantasies of success and wealth of coming to terms with one's national identity in the context of international politics and of attempting to transform the past both personal and cultural into a viable present European Cinema in the Twenty-First Century Ingrid Lewis, Laura

Canning,2020-05-23 This book rethinks the study of European Cinema in a way that centres on students and their needs in a comprehensive volume introducing undergraduates to the main discourses directions and genres of twenty first century European film Importantly this collection is the first of its kind to apply a transversal approach to European Cinema bringing together the East and the West while providing a broad picture of key trends aesthetics genres national identities and transnational concerns Lewis and Canning s collection effectively addresses some of the most pressing questions in contemporary European film such as ecology migration industry identity disability memory auteurship genre small cinemas and the national and international frameworks which underpin them Combining accessible original research with a thorough grounding in recent histories and contexts each chapter includes key definitions reflective group questions and a summative case study Overall this book makes a strong contribution to our understanding of recent European Cinema making it an invaluable resource for lecturers and students across a variety of film centred modules Format Friction Gavin

Williams,2024-06-05 With the rise of the gramophone circa 1900 the shellac disc mushroomed into the dominant sound format of the first half of the twentieth century Format Friction brings together a set of local encounters with the shellac disc beginning with its preconditions in South Asian knowledge and labor as well as early colonial expeditions to capture sounds to offer a global portrait of this format Spun at 78 revolutions per minute the shellac disc had become an industrial standard even while the gramophone itself remained a novelty The very basis of this early sound reproduction technology was friction an elemental materiality of sound shaped through cultural practice Yet the recording of sounds was only one element in the making of this global format Using friction as a lens Gavin Williams reveals the environments plundered the materials seized the ears entangled Bringing together material political and music history Format Friction decenters the story of a beloved medium and so too explores new ways of understanding listening in technological culture more broadly
