Literacy Practices and Perceptions of Agency Bronwyn T. Williams, 2017-07-06 In this book Bronwyn T Williams explores how perceptions of agency whether a person perceives and feels able to read and write successfully in a given context are critical in terms of how people perform their literate identities Drawing on interviews and observations with students in several countries he examines the intersections of the social and the personal in relation to how and crucially why people engage successfully or struggle painfully in literacy practices and what factors and forces they regard as enabling or constraining their actions Recognizing such moments and patterns can help teachers and researchers rethink their approaches to teaching to facilitate students sense of agency as writers and readers

Humane Composition Pedagogy Tamara Luque Black, Amber Foster, 2025-03-31 Humane Composition Pedagogy HCP provides a pedagogical framework for reconciling the current disconnect between neoliberal higher education policies sometimes called the business model of higher education and the demand for kinder and more human centered instruction Humane education is a pedagogical model with origins in secondary education that considers emotional wellbeing civic engagement and intrinsic motivation as central to learning The authors suggest that humane pedagogies can and should be adapted to higher education contexts as a means of synthesizing literatures on the pedagogies of inclusion and care from noteworthy scholars including Jamil Zaki Lisa Blankenship Asao B Inoue Ruchika Tulshyan and more Without feeding a crisis narrative or calling for a complete systemic overhaul HCP offers both an alternative to and an act of resistance against dehumanizing forces in today's colleges and universities In exploring its three tenets empathy wellbeing and belonging the authors call for improved collaboration among key stakeholders faculty students and administrators to center the human experience in how we approach college instruction thereby allowing universities to better fulfill their educational missions for Success in Postsecondary Writing especially the eight habits of mind in helping students to be successful not only in postsecondary writing courses but also in four arenas of life academic professional civic and personal The Case for Critical Literacy Alice S. Horning, 2024-08-15 The Case for Critical Literacy explores the history of reading within writing studies and lays the foundation for understanding the impact of this critical yet often untaught skill Every measure of students reading comprehension whether digital or analog demonstrates that between 50 and 80 percent of students are unable to capture the substance of a full discussion or evaluate material for authority accuracy currency relevancy appropriateness and bias This book examines how college level instruction reached this point and provides pedagogical strategies that writing instructors and teachers can use to address the problem Alice Horning makes the case for the importance of critical reading in the teaching of writing with intentionality and imagination while sharing glimpses of her own personal history with reading and writing Horning provides the context for understanding what college faculty face in their classrooms and offers a history of critical literacy that explains why to date it has mostly neglected or ignored the diverse statuses of students reading challenges The Case for Critical Literacy explores actionable options to better meet students literacy needs College and university faculty especially writing instructors will benefit from an understanding of what has happened in the field and what needs to change
