A Painters Progress A Portrait Of Lucian Freud:

A Painter's Progress David Dawson, 2014-10-07 For nearly twenty years David Dawson was Lucian Freud's assistant companion and model Freud moved in rarefied powerful circles and was tenacious about protecting his privacy He also carefully avoided distraction With few exceptions he wanted only those he knew well like the late Bruce Bernard to photograph him David Dawson however was in a unique position and as Freud became comfortable in the presence of Dawson's camera photographing became part of the daily ritual of the studio These photographs reveal in a most intimate way the subjects and the stages of paintings in progress Few artists if any have had their lives and their work recorded over such a length of time Despite Freud's sense of privacy his circle was wide Among those who regularly visited Freud were figures from the art world including art historian John Richardson and painters David Hockney and Frank Auerbach along with model Kate Moss and friends such as the Duke of Beaufort The book begins in Freud's old studio in Holland Park and then records the artist in his eighteenth century house in Kensington the first floor of which was his final studio Dawson also photographed Freud on his visits to look at masterpieces in various museums in New York Amsterdam and Madrid The book ends with views of the rooms in which Freud's own extraordinary collection of paintings was hung It is the only record of the house itself before the dispersal of the art on his death but ultimately the photographs create an intimate portrait of the man The final images in this book are of the hanging of Freud's work in his posthumous London exhibition at the National Portrait Gallery Haunting and fascinating this is a revelatory document about one of our most important and influential painters

The Face of Britain Simon Schama, 2016-08-16 Author of a number of celebrated works including the bestselling The Story of the Jews and Citizens A Chronicle of the French Revolution Simon Schama's latest book fuses history and art to create a tour de force of narrative sweep and illuminating insight Using images from works paintings photographs lithographs etchings sketches found in London's National Portrait Gallery The Face of Britain weaves together an account of their composition framed by their particular moment of creation and in the process unveils a collective portrait of nation and its history Portraits Schama writes have always been made with an eye to posterity Commissioned to paint Winston Churchill in 1954 Graham Sutherland struggled with how to capture the savior of Great Britain honestly and humanely Schama calls the portrait initially damned the most powerful image of a Great Briton ever executed Annie Leibovitz's photograph of a nude John Lennon kissing Yoko Ono taken five hours before his murder bears a weight of poignancy she could not possibly have anticipated Hans Holbein's preparatory sketch for a portrait of Henry VIII depicts an unstoppable engine of dynastic generation Here are expressions from across the centuries of normalcy and heroism beauty and disfigurement aristocracy and deprivation the familiar and the obscure the faces of courtesans warriors workers activists playwrights the high and mighty as well as pub crawlers Linking them is Schama's vibrant exploration of how their connective power emerges from the dynamic between subject and artist work and viewer time and place Schama's compelling analysis and impassioned

evocation of these works create an unforgettable verbal mosaic that at once reveals and transforms the images he places before us Lavishly illustrated and written with the storytelling brio that is Schama's trademark The Face of Britain invites us to look at a nation's visual legacies and find its reflection London Calling Elena Crippa, Catherine Lampert, 2016-07-26

Between the postwar years and the 1980s in Britain and in particular in London a number of figurative painters simultaneously reinvented the way in which life is represented in art Focusing on the depiction of the human figure these artists rendered the frailty and vitality of the human condition Offering a fresh account of developments that have since characterized postwar British painting this catalogue focuses on Michael Andrews Frank Auerbach Francis Bacon Lucian Freud R B Kitaj and Leon Kossoff artists who worked in close proximity as they were developing new forms of realism If for many years their efforts seemed to clash with dominant tendencies reassessment in recent decades has afforded their work a central position in a richer and more complex understanding of postwar British art and culture Rigorous and gorgeously illustrated the essays reflect on the parallel yet diverse trajectories of these artists their friendships and mutual admiration and the divergence of their practice from the discourse of high modernism The authors seek to dispel the notion of their work as a uniquely British endeavor by highlighting the artists' international outlook and ongoing dialogue with contemporary European and American painters as well as masters from previous generations This book is published to coincide with an exhibition at the J Paul Getty Museum from July 26 through November 13 2016 The Lives of Lucian Freud: Fame William Feaver, 2021-01-19
