Unit 1: Instructional Sequence 1:

SC.912.L.1.18.12 Discuss the special properties of water that contribute to Earth's suitability as an environment for life: cohesive behavior, ability to moderate temperature, expansion upon freezing and versatility as a solvent. Students will generally be able to summarize the properties of water and relate how these properties make water essential for life on earth

1. Describe each of the following properties of water and provide an example for how it helps to support life on Earth (be specific).

- Cohesion and Adhesion cohesion- when water molecules are attracted to each other adhesion- when water molecules are attracted to molecules on another surface

- Specific heat capacity

when water can absorb a lot of energy and resists change between states of matter. this allows it to be a subtle habitat and regulate ecosystems temps. (more water in the eco system=more constant the temp can maintain

- Expansion upon freezing

is less dense, causing it to turn into a solid; making ice; a solid form allowing it to expand, thus allowing it to float

- Universal solvent

water is polar so it can easily dissolve other polar molecules

- Hydrogen bonds

2. What is the relationship between the properties of water and transpiration that takes place in plants?

adhesion and cohesion help transport water into the roots of plants, up the stem and to the leaf, it pulls another water molecule up; like a link in a chain. cohesion links the water together, adhesion allows water to the internal structure of the plant.

Undergraduate Mathematics for the Life Sciences Glenn Ledder, Jenna P. Carpenter, Timothy D. Comar, 2013 There is a gap between the extensive mathematics background that is beneficial to biologists and the minimal mathematics background biology students acquire in their courses The result is an undergraduate education in biology with very little quantitative content New mathematics courses must be devised with the needs of biology students in mind In this volume authors from a variety of institutions address some of the problems involved in reforming mathematics curricula for biology students The problems are sorted into three themes Models Processes and Directions It is difficult for mathematicians to generate curriculum ideas for the training of biologists so a number of the curriculum models that have been introduced at various institutions comprise the Models section Processes deals with taking that great course and making sure it is institutionalized in both the biology department as a requirement and in the mathematics department as a course that will live on even if the creator of the course is no longer on the faculty Directions looks to the future with each paper laying out a case for pedagogical developments that the authors would like to see
