Building the Tombs of the Prophets (Classic Reprint) John N. Murdock, 2018-01-30 Excerpt from Building the Tombs of the Prophets This day commemorates the epoch of our National History It is the political birth day of a great people If we keep days for kings heroes sages and statesmen it is proper that we should observe in some becoming way the anniversary of a Nation s Exodus from vassalage and dependence Let this day be honored by due observance in all time to come I have invited you to this place to night in deference to its claims It is not my purpose however to rehearse the history of which it is the luminous centre I propose rather to deal with the truths which it signalizes viewing them somewhat from their point of contrast with those errors and perversions of the time which threaten to rob the day of its only true significance I have selected as serving my present occasion by afford ing a proper starting point for the remarks I wish to make those words of our Lord found in Luke xi 47 48 Woe unto you for ye build the sepulchres of the Prophets and your fathers killed them Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers for they indeed killed them and ye build their sepulchres About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Devotional Commentary on the Gospel Narrative, Vol. 1 of 8 (Classic Reprint) Isaac

Williams, 1880 Excerpt from Devotional Commentary on the Gospel Narrative Vol 1 of 8 Indistinct surmises of some one rising from the dead and of that Prophet to be raised up from among their brethren of whom Moses had spoken instead of the Voice from Mount Sinai which they entreated to hear no more And the words with which the Inspired Writings had closed were remarkable both from their distinct declaration and for the very mysterious manner in which alone it could be fulfilled As the silence of night came on and the light of prophecy was going down it spoke of the rising of the Sun of Righteousness with healing in His wings and yet not so for all men but for them shall He arise that fear My name To this it is added Behold I send you Elijah the Prophet before the coming of the great and About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The Harvard Classics Anthology Complete 51 Volumes is an unparalleled journey through the rich tapestry of Western literary and philosophical thought. Curated with an eye for the monumental and the profound, this collection spans epic poetry, philosophical treatises, scientific discourse, and pioneering political theory. From the stirring plays of Shakespeare to the foundational dialogues of Plato, each work contributes to the anthology's overarching exploration of human inquiry, creativity, and the quest for knowledge. It is a treasury of diverse styles and genres, featuring standout pieces that provoke reflection and insight without providing definitive answers, but instead fostering a legacy of questions that drive human progress. The assembly of authors in this anthology reads as a who's who of intellectual giants whose works have each shaped the world in indelible ways. Here, Renaissance dramatists mingle with Enlightenment philosophers and Romantic poets converse with ancient historians. These authors, from Goethe to Montaigne, reflect a broad spectrum of cultural and historical backgrounds, representing movements such as the Enlightenment, the Reformation, and the Scientific Revolution, united in their pursuit to articulate the human experience. Their collective voices enrich this anthology, offering comprehensive viewpoints that underscore the interconnectedness of thought across eras. This extensive compendium is essential for anyone seeking to immerse themselves in the pillars of Western literary and intellectual heritage. The Harvard Classics Anthology Complete 51 Volumes not only serves as a spine of traditional curricula but also as a gateway to a profound dialogue across centuries, making it an invaluable resource for students, educators, and those with a passion for literature and philosophy. By exploring this compilation, readers are offered a unique educational experience that bridges disparate ideas and philosophies, fostering a deeper understanding of the themes that have shaped human civilization.
