Universities, Inclusive Development and Social Innovation Claes Brundenius,Bo Göransson,José Manoel Carvalho de Mello,2016-10-25 This book examines the ways in which universities can play a crucial role in inclusive development social innovation and social entrepreneurship It aims to prove the importance of inclusive development and inclusive innovation on economic growth and demonstrate the ways in which universities can be pioneers in this area through initiatives in social responsibility and social innovation For example providing access to a university education without discrimination of race gender income status or other factors would help to diminish the increasing income differentials currently being experienced in many countries especially in the developing world The research and studies included in this book provide insight into possible actions that can be taken by universities and public and private shareholders in inclusive development social innovation social entrepreneurship and overall regional economic and social development Innovation is currently considered to be the most important and dynamic factor explaining growth and development At the same time the traditional view considering innovation as having to be commercialized at any price is being challenged. Lately there has been growing interest in innovation in the public sector particularly with respect to social innovations designed to reduce income inequality. To address these concepts constant exchange of ideas and information between research groups became necessary. UniDev Universities in Development the Evolving Role of Academic Institutions in Innovation Systems and Development is an international research group with researchers in twelve countries interested in the role of universities in development. This book features the results of research performed by eleven research groups from UniDev country communities presenting in depth and comparative case studies from universities around the world including Latin America Northern and Eastern Europe and sub Saharan Africa. This title will be of interest to students academics researchers and policy makers interested in the role of universities in development social innovation and social entrepreneurship.

Britannica Book of the Year Franklin Henry Hooper, 2016 Funeral Culture Casey Golomski, 2018-06-04 Contemporary forms of living and dying in Swaziland cannot be understood apart from the global HIV AIDS pandemic according to anthropologist Casey Golomski. In Africa's last absolute monarchy the story of 15 years of global collaboration in treatment and intervention is also one of ordinary people facing the work of caring for the sick and dying and burying the dead. Golomski's ethnography shows how AIDS posed challenging questions about the value of life culture and materiality to drive new forms and practices for funerals. Many of these forms and practices newly catered funeral feasts an expanded market for life insurance and the kingdom's first crematorium are now conspicuous across the landscape and culturally disruptive in a highly traditionalist setting. This powerful and original account details how these new matters of death dying and funerals have become entrenched in people's everyday lives and become part of a quest to create dignity in the wake of a devastating epidemic.

Soil Degradation and Restoration in Africa Rattan Lal, B. A. Stewart, 2019-07-09 Soil degradation is a widespread problem in Africa resulting in decreased agricultural productivity while demand for food continues to increase. Degradation is caused by accelerated erosion acidification contamination depletion of soil organic matter and plant nutrients and salinization. The major cause of soil degradation in Africa is uncontrolled and excessive grazing in the savanna regions followed by deforestation and the use of inappropriate and extractive farming practices. Perpetual neglect of the health of soils in Africa can exacerbate the already serious problems of food and nutritional insecurity and environmental degradation. Food and nutritional security of the growing population of Africa can only be achieved if degraded soils are restored and soils of agroecosystems are managed prudently and sustainably. Ignoring soils and taking the fragile finite and precious soil resources for granted is the principal cause of poverty hunger and environmental degradation. The downward spiral must be reversed through soil restoration measures based on translating science into action. This book describes the soils of Africa processes of soil degradation extent and severity of soil degradation and the impacts of degradation processes on food and nutritional security. Features Explores the extent and severity of soil degradation in Africa Analyzes the cause effect relationship between anthropogenic activities and soil degradation Reviews processes of soil degradation in Africa including erosion salinization nutrient depletion and decline of soil organic matter Addresses the effect of climate change on soil degradation in Africa Explains how soil degradation causes food and nutritional insecurity Part of the Advances in Soil Sciences series this volume is specifically devoted to the processes and factors that cause soil degradation and the challenges and potential for remediation and restoration of soil health in Africa Zonal Biomes of Southern Africa Ladislav Mucina, Michael C.
