Françoise Sagan* Françoise Sagan, 2011 Endearing self absorbed seventeen year old Cécile is the very essence of untroubled amorality Freed from the stifling constraints of boarding school she joins her father a handsome still young widower with a wandering eye for a carefree two month summer vacation in a beautiful villa outside of Paris with his latest mistress Elsa Cécile cherishes the free spirited moments she and her father share while plotting her own sexual adventures with a tall and almost beautiful law student But the arrival of her late mother's best friend Anne intrudes upon a young girl's pleasures And when a relationship begins to develop between the adults Cécile and her lover set in motion a plan to keep them apart with tragic unexpected consequences French literature on screen Homer B. Pettey, R. Barton Palmer, 2019-05-16 This collection presents new essays in the complex field of French literary adaptation Using a variety of textual and interpretive approaches it sheds light on issues of gender sexuality class politics and social conventions while acknowledging a range of contexts from the commercial to the archival and the aesthetic The chapters written by eminent international scholars run chronologically from The Count of Monte Cristo through Proust and Bonjour Tristesse to Philippe Djian's Oh adapted for the screen as Elle Collectively they fill a need for contemporary discussions on the significance of France's literary representations in the history of global cinema Publishing Africa in French Ruth Bush, 2016 The history of post war writing in French has tended to separate African literature from French metropolitan literary production The same separation resonates in today's global French literary marketplace still dominated by Parisian publishing houses and metropolitan literary kudos This study historicises the aesthetic and socio economic implications of that evident asymmetry Archival research combines with literary analysis to explore the mediations that defined and legitimated notions of language authorship and literary value during the decolonizing vingt glorieuses Revealing known and less known connections between institutions such as Pr sence Africaine Editions du Seuil Gallimard and the Association descrivains de la mer et de l'outre mer the author argues that a contested and variegated African literary presence was widely dispersed across the metropolitan publishing scene in this period These material aspects of book production and distribution are inextricably entangled with ongoing debates over the representation of Africa in words Authors whose work is considered in detail include Abdoulaye Sadj Cheikh Hamidou Kane Christine Garnier Malick Fall Chinua Achebe and Peter Abrahams Publishing Africa in French uses an innovative interdisciplinary methodology to contribute fresh insights and new material to current concerns in French Studies African Studies the sociology of literature and book history

Bonjour Tristesse Françoise Sagan, 2013 A certain smile A young woman bored with her lover begins an affair with an older man that unfolds in unexpected and troubling ways Publisher description

Jazz and Postwar French Identity Elizabeth Vihlen McGregor, 2016-06-23 In the context of a shifting domestic and international status quo that was evolving in the decades following World War II French audiences used jazz as a means of negotiating a wide range of issues that were pressing to them and to their fellow citizens Despite the fact that jazz was fundamentally linked to the multicultural through its origins in the hands of African American musicians happenings within the French jazz public reflected much about France's postwar society In the minds of many jazz was connected to youth culture but instead of challenging traditional gender expectations the music tended to reinforce long held stereotypes French critics musicians and fans contended with the reality of American superpower strength and often strove to elevate their own country's stature in relation to the United States by finding fault with American consumer society and foreign policy aims Jazz audiences used this music to condemn American racism and to support the American civil rights movement expressing strong reservations about the American way of life French musicians lobbied to create professional opportunities for themselves and some went so far as to create a union that endorsed preferential treatment for French nationals As France became more ethnically and religiously diverse due to immigration from Africa Asia and the Caribbean French jazz critics and fans noted the insidious appearance of racism in their own country and had to contend with how their own citizens would address the changing demographics of the nation even if they continued to insist that racism was more prevalent in the United States As independence movements brought an end to the French empire jazz enthusiasts from both former colonies and France had to reenvision their relationship to jazz and to the music's international audiences In these postwar decades the French were working to preserve a distinct national identity in the face of weakened global authority most forcefully represented by decolonization and American hegemony Through this originally African American music French listeners commentators and musicians participated in a process that both challenged and reinforced ideas about their own culture and nation

The

Cambridge Companion to the French Novel Timothy Unwin, 1997-10-28 This volume offers a unique and valuable insight into the novel in French over the past two centuries In a series of essays acknowledged experts discuss a variety of topics including nineteenth century realism women and fiction popular fiction experiment and innovation war and the Holocaust the Francophone novel and postmodern fiction They offer a challenging reassessment of major figures while deliberately reading traditional views of literary history against the grain Theoretical discussion is combined with close reading of texts and exploration of context comparison with other genres and other literatures and reference to novels from earlier periods This companionable introduction includes a chronology and guide to further reading From it emerges a strong sense of the vitality and energy of the modern French novel and of the debates surrounding it

Truffaut on Cinema , 2017-03-06 The writings reveal a Truffaut who was as incisive and direct in assessing his own work as he was in assessing the work of other directors Choice Between 1959 and 1984 French film director François Truffaut was interviewed over three hundred times Each interview offers critical insight into the genesis of Truffaut's films as he shares the sources of his inspiration the choice of his themes and the development of his screenplays In addition Truffaut discusses his relationships with collaborators actors and the circumstances surrounding the shooting of each film These texts originally assembled by Anne Gillain and published in French in 1988 are presented here in a montage arranged chronologically by film This compilation includes an impressive array of reflections on cinema as an art form Truffaut defines the aims and practices of the French New Wave comparing their efforts to the films made by their predecessors and including comments that encompass the entire history of cinema Truffaut on Cinema provides commentary on contemporary events a wealth of biographical information and Truffaut's own artistic itinerary

A History of the French New Wave Cinema Richard Neupert, 2007-04-20 The French New Wave cinema is arguably the most fascinating of all film movements famous for its exuberance daring and avant garde techniques A History of the French New Wave Cinema offers a fresh look at the social economic and aesthetic mechanisms that shaped French film in the 1950s as well as detailed studies of the most important New Wave movies of the late 1950s and early 1960s Richard Neupert first tracks the precursors to New Wave cinema showing how they provided blueprints for those who would follow He then demonstrates that it was a core group of critics turned directors from the magazine Cahiers du Cinéma especially François Truffaut Claude Chabrol and Jean-Luc Godard who really revealed that filmmaking was changing forever Later their cohorts Eric Rohmer Jacques Rivette Jacques Doniol-Valcroze and Pierre Kast continued in their own unique ways to expand the range and depth of the New Wave In an exciting new chapter Neupert explores the subgroup of French film practice known as the Left Bank Group which included directors such as Alain Resnais and Agnès Varda With the addition of this new material and an updated conclusion Neupert presents a comprehensive review of the stunning variety of movies to come out of this important era in filmmaking
