Modeling and Verification of Parallel Processes Franck Cassez, Claude Jard, Brigitte Rozoy, Mark D. Ryan, 2003-06-29 Daily life relies more and more on safety critical systems e g in areas such as power plant control traffic management flight control and many more MOVEP is a school devoted to the broad subject of modeling and verifying software and hardware systems This volume contains tutorials and annotated bibliographies covering the main subjects addressed at MOVEP 2000 The four tutorials deal with Model Checking Theorem Proving Composition and Abstraction Techniques and Timed Systems Three research papers give detailed views of High Level Message Sequence Charts Industrial Applications of Model Checking and the use of Formal Methods in Security Finally four annotated bibliographies give an overview of Infinite State Space Systems Testing Transition Systems Fault Model Driven Test Derivation and Mobile Processes The Press Effect Kathleen Hall Jamieson, Paul Waldman, 2002-11-14 Was the 2000 presidential campaign merely a contest between Pinocchio and Dumbo And did Dumbo miraculously turn into Abraham Lincoln after the events of September 11 In fact Kathleen Hall Jamieson and Paul Waldman argue in The Press Effect these stereotypes while containing some elements of the truth represent the failure of the press and the citizenry to engage the most important part of our political process in a critical fashion Jamieson and Waldman analyze both press coverage and public opinion using the Annenberg 2000 survey which interviewed more than 100 000 people to examine one of the most interesting periods of modern presidential history from the summer of 2000 through the aftermath of September 11th How does the press fail us during presidential elections Jamieson and Waldman show that when political campaigns side step or refuse to engage the facts of the opposing side the press often fails to step into the void with the information citizens require to make sense of the political give and take They look at the stories through which we understand political events examining a number of fabrications that deceived the public about consequential governmental activities and explore the ways in which political leaders and reporters select the language through which we talk and think about politics and the relationship between the rhetoric of campaigns and the reality of governance The Press Effect is ultimately a wide ranging critique of the press s role in mediating between politicians and the citizens they are supposed to serve What's Yours Is Mine Adam D. Thierer, Clyde Wayne Crews, 2003-05-25 In What s Yours Is Mine Open Access and the Rise of Infrastructure Socialism authors Adam Thierer and Clyde Wayne Crews Jr examine the hazards of mandatory open access a trend in which hyper regulatory bureaucrats and central planners are increasingly commanding technology companies and industry sectors to share networks facilities or specific technologies with rivals Telephone and cable companies wireless carriers electric utilities the Visa Mastercard network Microsoft s Windows operating system all these and more have been targets of demands for forced access Although supporters claim that open access is pro competitive the opposite is true Forced access policies inevitably mean price and quality controls stagnation increased litigation and a crippling of innovation Genuine competition requires that firms have the ability to exclude rivals Government seizure of existing networks and technologies on behalf of rivals means that next generation technologies will not be created by those rivals or the incumbents The recent decision by the FCC to continue such micro management of local telecom markets illustrates this principle regulators have opted to continue to require sharing of local telephone lines and switches despite the fact that those rules have decimated innovation and investment in the U S telecom market The key message for policymakers hoping for a high tech renaissance Competition in the creation of networks is as important as competition in the goods and services that get sold across those networks Competition innovation and consumers will suffer if forced sharing policies are not abandoned In today s world of increasing global communications and digital technologies What s Yours Is Mine makes an urgently needed pro consumer case for laissez faire in the evolution of technology industries

Terrorism and Counterterrorism Brigitte L Nacos,2015-07-22 Focusing on the phenomenon of terrorism in the post 9 11 era Terrorism and Counterterrorism investigates this form of political violence in an international and American context and in light of new and historical trends In this comprehensive and highly readable text Brigitte Nacos a renowned expert in the field clearly defines terrorism s diverse causes actors and strategies outlines anti and counter terrorist responses and highlights terrorism s relationship with the media and the public Terrorism and Counterterrorism introduces students to the field s main debates and helps them critically assess our understanding of and our strategies for this complex and enduring issue

Race-Baiter Eric Deggans,2012-10-30 Gone is the era of Edward R Murrow and Walter Cronkite when news programs fought to gain the trust and respect of a wide spectrum of American viewers Today the fastest growing news programs and media platforms are fighting hard for increasingly narrow segments of the public and playing on old prejudices and deep rooted fears coloring the conversation in the blogosphere and the cable news chatter to distract from the true issues at stake Using the same tactics once used to mobilize political parties and committed voters they send their fans coded messages and demonize opposing groups in the process securing valuable audience share and website traffic Race baiter is a term born out of this tumultuous climate coined by the conservative media to describe a person who uses racial tensions to arouse the passion and ire of a particular demographic Even as the election of the first black president forces us all to reevaluate how we think about race gender culture and class lines some areas of modern media are working hard to push the same old buttons of conflict and division for new purposes In Race Baiter veteran journalist and media critic Eric Deggans dissects the powerful ways modern media feeds fears prejudices and hate
