American Notebooks A Writers Journey:

American Notebook Michael Gawenda, 2014-03-05 One of the rewards extended to former editors if they are lucky and get to plan their departure is that they can choose their next assignment I had no doubt about what I wanted to be Washington correspondent for The Age and The Sydney Morning Herald There was no more important and interesting international story to cover than the United States at the beginning of George W Bush s second term The war in Iraq was going badly and it was not at all clear that the war on terror was being won or even if there was any agreement that it was in fact a war When veteran journalist Michael Gawenda was posted to the USA as a Washington correspondent in 2005 George W Bush was beginning his second term and the war in Iraq was showing signs of becoming a quagmire Two years later Bush is a lame duck president and most Americans want their troops out of Iraq American Notebook is Gawenda s absorbing and insightful account of his American posting Weaving the personal into the political Gawenda takes the reader on his journey into a country he has always loved Beyond daily life in Washington he visits hurricane ravaged New Orleans and the God fearing states of the Midwest His engaging analysis of politics and current events is interwoven with his reflections on his childhood as a post war Jewish refugee growing up in the sixties in a Melbourne steeped in American culture In light of the increasingly evident failure of efforts in Iraq he revisits his own controversial decision while editor of The Age newspaper to support the Howard Government s decision in 2003 to join the coalition of the willing American Notebook is a fascinating discussion of the role of journalism and the nature of public debate about war politics and current events Ilf and
