Amplifying Our Witness Giving Voice To Adolescents With Developmental Disabilities:

Amplifying Our Witness Benjamin T. Conner, 2012-06-11 Nearly twenty percent of adolescents have developmental disabilities yet far too often they are marginalized within churches Amplifying Our Witness challenges congregations to adopt a new practice centered approach to congregational ministry one that includes and amplifies the witness of adolescents with developmental disabilities Replete with stories taken from Benjamin Conner's own extensive experience with befriending and discipling adolescents with developmental disabilities Amplifying Our Witness Shows how churches exclude the mentally disabled in various structural and even theological ways Stresses the intrinsic value of kids with developmental disabilities Reconceptualizes evangelism to adolescents with developmental disabilities emphasizing hospitality and friendship

Disability and the Way of Jesus Bethany McKinney Fox, 2019-05-28 What does healing mean for people with disabilities Bridging biblical studies ethics and disability studies with the work of practitioners Bethany McKinney Fox examines healing narratives in their biblical and cultural contexts This theologically grounded and winsomely practical resource helps us more fully understand what Jesus does as he heals and how he points the way for relationships with people with disabilities

Embodying Youth Wesley Ellis, Michael Langford, 2020-05-21 Embodying Youth Exploring Youth Ministry and Disability seeks to help close the gap between disability theology and youth ministry education What is youth ministry And who is it for Christian youth workers and ministers in the West have been answering these questions either implicitly or explicitly for decades The ways we answer these questions and the ways in which we go about answering them have huge implications with regards to the faithfulness and effectiveness of the church's ministry with young people These questions have not always been pursued with the experience of disability in mind In fact it is often excluded not only from the academic field but from the church's practice of youth ministry as well In this book scholars and youth workers seek to attend to the questions of youth ministry by putting the experience of disability at the forefront with hope not only that the church might include young people with disabilities but also that our very understanding of what youth ministry is and who youth ministry is for might be transformed for the sake of the gospel This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Disability Religion

Disability and the Church Lamar Hardwick, 2021-02-09 Pastor Lamar Hardwick was thirty six years old when he found out he was on the autism spectrum This revelation prompted him to reconsider the church's responsibilities to the disabled community Insisting that the good news of Jesus affirms God's image in all people Hardwick offers practical steps and strategies to build stronger truly inclusive communities of faith

Disabling Mission, Enabling Witness Benjamin T. Conner, 2018-07-03 How would it look if we disabled Christian theology discipleship and theological education Benjamin Conner initiates a new conversation between disability studies and Christian theology and missiology imagining a church that fully incorporates persons with disabilities into its mission In this vision people with disabilities are part of the church's pluriform witness and the congregation embodies a robust hermeneutic of the gospel

Neurodiversity, Faith

Formation, and Theological Education Michael Paul Cartledge, Erin Raffety, 2025-04-25 This book demonstrates the constructive insights the neurodiversity paradigm presents for a more thorough understanding of creation human flourishing Christian virtues ecclesiology belonging youth ministry prayer worship and justice The neurodiversity movement is a social justice movement that celebrates the unique insights and strengths of Autistic people people with ADHD learning differences and other experiences like Tourette s and tics Rather than viewing such experiences as deficits the movement emphasizes the natural variation in the ways people think learn and live in the world Yet people with these diagnoses who often identify as neurodivergent have experienced prejudice and stigma in educational and church spaces due to their neurological or behavioral differences Participation in church and learning environments is often a burden for neurodivergent people What can theological educators and ministry leaders learn from the neurodiversity paradigm and movement How might places of learning and worship be transformed by listening to the voices of neurodivergent people Drawing on empirical research and lived experience the contributors to this book pursue answers to these questions and present a vision of faith formation and theological education that centers the voices of neurodivergent people and cultivates environments where people of all neurotypes can flourish This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Disability Religion

The End of Youth Ministry? (Theology for the Life of the World) Andrew Root, 2020-03-17 What is youth ministry actually for And does it have a future Andrew Root a leading scholar in youth ministry and practical theology went on a one year journey to answer these questions In this book Root weaves together an innovative first person fictional narrative to diagnose the challenges facing the church today and to offer a new vision for youth ministry in the 21st century Informed by interviews that Root conducted with parents this book explores how parents perspectives of what constitutes a good life are affecting youth ministry In today s culture youth ministry can t compete with sports test prep and the myriad other activities in which young people participate Through a unique parable style story Root offers a new way to think about the purpose of youth ministry not happiness but joy Joy is a sense of experiencing the good For youth ministry to be about joy it must move beyond the youth group model and rework the assumptions of how identity and happiness are imagined by parents in American society

Converting Witness David W. Congdon, John G. Flett, 2019-06-05 Building on the work and legacy of Darrell L. Guder Converting Witness: The Future of Christian Mission in the New Millennium explores key questions and new possibilities in missiology in light of the world Christian context The conversation around missional theology and the missional church has examined the gap between theology and mission with the intent of fostering renewal within North American Christianity But this can only fully occur in relation to the reality of world Christianities and the framing significance of global cultural diversity Many of the classic categories and methods such as church planting catholicity and even the term world Christianity itself are in need of fresh examination and thoughtful analysis The contributors to this volume address a range of important missiological topics including globalization interfaith dialogue integral mission intercultural hermeneutics and church practices Disabling Leadership Andrew T. Draper, Jody Michele, Andrea Mae, 2023-12-12 Churches must both consider the theology of disability and also become places where people with disabilities lead Moving beyond paternalistic views of disability this book encompasses cutting edge theological ethics as well as practical examples of how church leaders and congregants can foster genuinely inclusive leadership teams Nurturing Faith Fred P. Edie, Mark A. Lamport, 2021-09-07 Faith left on rocky soil withers But faith nurtured in the good soil of Christian teaching formation and mentorship grows to maturity and yields thriving community Educational ministries are so often where this happens where the desires of the human heart are shaped toward a love for God a love for one's neighbor and a love for the world In this comprehensive guide to educational ministries in the twenty first century Fred Edie and Mark Lamport explore how church leaders and others involved in Christian education can nurture a robust cruciform faith within their communities When discussing strategies and goals Edie and Lamport consider a range of contexts and a variety of related fields that might give insight into educational ministry theology pedagogy philosophy social science and more Those working with any age group children adolescents and adults will find a relevant discussion of key underlying theological themes a guide to concrete practices and indispensable help in navigating shifting cultural dynamics Exceedingly practical and consistent with the teachings of the gospel the wisdom in this book will speak to all who long to foster discipleship in their church school or missional community Key Features A Road Map at the beginning of each chapter concisely introduces the chapter's topic and essential themes Sidebars throughout the text provide deeper insight into particular important or nuanced concepts Discussion questions at the end of each chapter facilitate further reflection especially in conversation with others Suggestions for further reading are provided at the end of each chapter for those interested in exploring the chapter's ideas in greater depth Concluding the book is a series of afterwords from experts in the field of Christian educational ministries Martyn Percy Almeda Wright Craig Dykstra Kirsten Oh Elizabeth DeGaynor and Thomas Groome
