Academic Motherhood In A Post Second Wave Context Challenges Strategies And Possibilities:

Academic Motherhood in a Post Second Wave Context Hallstein Lynn O'Brien, 2012-04-01 Contributors detail what it means to be an academic mother and to think about academic motherhood while also exploring both the personal and specific institutional challenges academic women face the multifaceted strategies different academic women are implementing to manage those challenges and investigating different theoretical possibilities for how we think about academic motherhood

Imagining Motherhood in the Twenty-First Century Valerie Heffernan, Gay Wilgus, 2020-12-17 Images representations and constructions of mothers have historically shaped and continue to shape the way we imagine the institution of motherhood and the experience of mothering The various contributions included in this volume consider the diversity of maternal images and narratives that circulate in literature the arts and popular culture and analyse how they reflect on and influence the cultural meaning of motherhood in the contemporary era Mindful of the fact that the images of motherhood that we see in popular media on television and in literature are not mere background noise to our daily lives the various chapters explore how they influence our understanding of what it means to be a mother affect our expectations of motherhood and of mothers frame our experience of mothering and even inform our reproductive decisions Including insights from media studies cultural studies literary studies and the performing and visual arts this book explores how engaging with diverse representations of mothers and mothering contributes to a broader and deeper interdisciplinary understanding of how motherhood is constructed in our time The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Women A Cultural Review

Productivity, Professionalism, and Parenting in Academia Christine E. Tulley, 2025-04-30 Drawing on time use diary analysis this unique and detailed study fills in the larger narrative about what it takes hour by hour to navigate academic motherhood with a rhetoric and composition career Looking specifically at the intersections between parenting and writing for publication in order to find out how and when writing for career advancing tasks such as publication occur but also through the lens of disciplinary time constraints including heavy grading and administrative workloads the book examines support systems noted within diary entries that make combining motherhood and a career in rhetoric and composition possible Using both quantitative analysis of hours and qualitative coding of time use diaries from rhet comp moms this book answers questions about publishing professionalism and parenting This book will interest scholars and graduate students working in the discipline of rhetoric writing and composition particularly those working on labor and professional issues on gender and equality within the discipline and anyone working in all fields looking for ways to foster a better work life balance

Matricentric Feminism: Theory, Activism, Practice. The 2nd Edition Andrea O'Reilly, 2021-04-04 The 2nd edition includes a new preface that considers how matricentric feminism in positioning mothering as a verb affords a gender neutral understanding of motherwork and allows for an appreciation of how motherwork is deeply gendered and how this may be challenged and changed through empowered mothering The book argues that the category of mother is distinct from the category of woman and that many of the problems mothers face are specific to women's role and identity as mothers. Indeed, mothers are oppressed under patriarchy as women and as mothers. Consequently, mothers need a feminism of their own, one that positions mothers' concerns as the starting point for a theory and politics of empowerment. O'Reilly terms this new mode of feminism 'matricentric feminism' and the book explores how it is represented and experienced in theory, activism and practice.

Theorizing Motherhood and Emerging Adulthood Maya Bhavé, Talia Esnard, Kae Solomon, 2025-05-14. While motherhood as an area of scholarship has been significantly advanced with extensive global theorizations, examinations of the thinking and experiences around mothering emerging adults are still in need of deeper interrogation. This edited volume addresses this gap with a rich array of empirical, reflective and creative pieces that speak to the contextual, emotive or affective, discursive and performative aspects of mothering. The volume is framed around the theoretical concepts of normative motherhood, maternal regret, silence and maternal social transitions. The contributing authors bring to light new and innovative analyses on subjects including, but not limited to, eco-disconnect, non-proximate and emerging neurodiversity, abuse, mental health issues and mothering, tiger mothering and racialized understandings of mothering emerging adults. The findings revealed within this volume broaden our understanding of the often-unexamined latter period of the motherhood arc.

Intensive Mothering: The Cultural Contradictions of Modern Motherhood Linda Rose Ennis, 2014-12-01. To celebrate the twentieth anniversary of Sharon Hays' landmark book The Cultural Contradictions of Motherhood, this collection will revisit Hays' concept of intensive mothering as a continuing yet controversial representation of modern motherhood. In Hays' original work, she spoke of intensive mothering as primarily being conducted by mothers centered on children's needs with methods informed by experts, which are labour-intensive and costly simply because children are entitled to this maternal investment. While respecting the important need for connection between mother and baby that is prevalent in the teachings of Attachment Theory, this collection raises into question whether an over-investment of mothers in their children's lives is as effective a mode of parenting as being conveyed by representations of modern motherhood. In a world where independence is encouraged, why are we still engaging in intensive motherhood?

Laboring Positions: Black Women, Mothering and the Academy Sekile Nzinga-Johnson, 2013-06-01. Laboring Positions aims to disrupt the dominant discourse on academic women's mothering experiences. Black women's maternity is assumed and yet is also silenced within the disembodied patriarchal, racist, antifamily and increasingly neoliberal work environment of academia. This volume acknowledges the salience of the institutional challenges facing contemporary caregiving academics, yet it is centrally concerned with expanding the academic mothering conversation by speaking against the private/public spheres approach. Laboring Positions does so by privileging the hybridity between Black women's mothering experiences and their working lives within and beyond the academy. The collection also intentionally blurs essentialist boundaries of mother and other, which dictates and generates alternate border zones of knowledge production.

concerning Black academic women's working lives. In doing so, the diverse perspectives captured herein offer us cogent starting points from which to interrogate the interlocking cultural, political, and economic hierarchies of the academy. The editorial goal of Laboring Positions is to offer a polyvocal collection embodying themes that privilege and arouse Black mothering as central in the narratives, research, and models of existence and resistance for Black women's survival within the academy. The contributors utilize a wide variety of methods and perspectives including Black feminist theory, intersectional feminism, Womanist research, ethics, hip hop feminism, African-centered epistemologies, literary analysis, autoethnography, policy analysis, memoir, qualitative research, survival strategies, and frameworks, and situated testimony that are all collectively bound by Black women's intellectual lives, activist impulses, and experiences of mothering or being mothered. The critical embodied perspectives herein serve as evidence that Black women exist beyond the institutional and ideological boundaries that have attempted to define their journeys. Laboring Positions chapters speak to each other, and some conversations are louder than others; yet together they offer us a complexly nuanced portrait of the emergent literature on race, gender, mothering, and work.

Women Negotiating Life in the Academy Sarah Elaine Eaton, Amy Burns, 2020-03-23
This book offers a new perspective on how Canadian women in the academy are re-conceptualizing and reconsidering their position as professionals. It examines central challenges associated with the lives of women scholars and higher education professionals, including their professional identity, institutional expectations, lessons learned throughout their career experiences in higher education, and navigating between multiple roles. In turn, the book highlights the importance of both formal and informal networks of support. Each contributing author presents authentic examples from her lived experiences as a woman in the academy, situating her personal narrative within previous research in the field. Taken together, the respective chapters equip readers with a deeper understanding of the experiences of women in the academic world. This book is inclusive in nature, showcasing experiences from women who are scholars, students, and higher education professionals. The book makes a significant and unique contribution to the field of gender studies, with a focus on women negotiating life in the academic world and within the Canadian context. The evidence and insights shared here will benefit all scholars in women's studies and comparative studies, as well as those considering a career in higher education.

In (M)other Words Andrea O'Reilly, 2024-04-30
Dr. Andrea O'Reilly is internationally recognized as the founder of Motherhood Studies (2006) and its subfield Maternal Theory (2007), and creator of the concept of Matricentric Feminism, a feminism for and about mothers (2016), and Matricritics, a literary theory and practice for a reading of mother-focused texts (2021). With this collection, O'Reilly continues the conversation on the meaning and nature of motherhood initiated by Adrienne Rich in Of Woman Born (close to fifty years ago). In In (M)other Words, O'Reilly shares 25 of her chapters and articles published between 2009-2024 to examine the oppressive and empowering dimensions of mothering and to explore motherhood as institution, experience, subjectivity, and empowerment. The collection considers the central themes and theories of motherhood studies, including normative motherhood feminist mothering maternal regret matricentric pedagogy young mothers academic motherhood matricentric feminism matricritics motherhood and feminism the motherhood memoir the twenty first century motherhood movement mothers and daughters mothers and sons pandemic mothering and the motherline After the Happily Ever After: Empowering Women and Mothers in Relationships Linda Rose Ennis, 2017-09-01 This book is about the two tiered system and invisible imbalance that operates within the framework of the family It is about the fantasy of the happily ever after which the wedding industry promotes and Western society reinforces Why are we hanging onto this faux happiness at the expense of our future well being Why don t we wonder what happened after they lived happily ever after and if in fact they really do What I hope to achieve by writing this book is to rattle the cage of young brides about to embark on this journey to talk about these issues with their future partners and to set the system up in a more equal way so no one is caught off guard if and when things crumble It will be difficult to achieve this task because no one wants to think about things falling apart before the marriage even begins and most certainly it sours the sweetness of the fantasy of the happily ever after as we know it What we don t realize is that there will be less bitterness and upset for the family especially for the children if we pursue this line of thinking Isn t that the real happily ever after
