Academic Professionalism in Law Enforcement Bernadette Jones Palombo, 1995 Environmental Crime and Criminality Sally M. Edwards, Terry D. Edwards, Charles B. Fields, 2013-08-01 First published in 1996 One of the primary goals of this series has been to explore new areas of criminology and criminal justice topics that constitute the frontiers of the field This work edited by Sally Edwards Terry Edwards and Charles Fields exemplifies that purpose in its coverage of environmental crime While corporate and political crime developed slowly into mainstream criminology over the last half century environmental crime as an area of emphasis is still in its infancy It is unusual to have many varied and informative perspectives early in a subject s development This volume however demonstrates that many people are already examining environmental crime perhaps as an extension of both the greater environmental movement and the broadening of the popular parameters of crime African Americans and the Criminal Justice System Marvin D. Free, 1996 Twenty nine collected essays represent a critical history of Shakespeare s play as text and as theater beginning with Samuel Johnson in 1765 and ending with a review of the Royal Shakespeare Company production in 1991 The criticism centers on three aspects of the play the love friendship debate Handbook of Policing, Ethics, and Professional Standards Allyson MacVean, Peter Spindler, Charlotte Solf, 2012 Low confidence in the police and the increasing crime rates during the 1990s led to a series of government initiatives directed at changing both the structure and management of the police service In 2006 in an attempt to define what a principled police service should resemble the Home Office Minister Hazel Blears announced the development of new Code of Professional Standards for the police service informed by the Taylor Review of 2005 While there has been a growing awareness of the role of Professional Standards within law enforcement activity to date there has been little scholarly debate on the understanding of ethics and how that is applied to practical policing This book provides a single text of different perspectives on how professional standards and ethics has been conceptualised and developed into practical policing processes for the purposes of policing not only by the police but also by the partner agencies Leading academics and practitioners consider the moral minefield of policing through examinations of undercover operatives MI5 and deaths in police custody as well as looking forward to the future considerations and practices in professional conduct It will be of interest to those working within the field of policing as well as students and academics focussed on policing and criminal justice Directory of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Associations and Research Centers Sharon Lyles, 1997-11 A directory of organizations that are active in one or more areas of the criminal justice system including law enforcement courts corrections rehabilitation Lists national organizations primarily but also includes regional organizations local organizations of special interest as well as international organizations which have a significant number of American members a U S chapter or subcommittee or are doing work applicable to law enforcement in this country Includes professional volunteer social action associations research centers government agencies Strictly social or fraternal organizations are not listed Comprehensive The Politics of Community Policing Wilson Edward Reed, 2013-06-17 First published in 1999 As with the other volumes in this series readers will appreciate the clear and compelling way this case study is presented Reed critiques the way in which political and economic dynamics not only threaten but convolute the intended benefits of community policing Although you may not always agree with the author's interpretations he has given us a compelling look at the potential for corruption of model programs The Rehnquist Court and Criminal Punishment Christopher E. Smith, 2014-02-04 First Published in 1997 Organised in a easily readable format this book on the Supreme Court and punishment takes the reader through the sentencing and incarceration issues that have been so controversial and yet so relatively unchanged over the years The Contours of Psychiatric Justice Bruce A. Arrigo, 1996 Twenty nine collected essays represent a critical history of Shakespeare's play as text and as theater beginning with Samuel Johnson in 1765 and ending with a review of the Royal Shakespeare Company production in 1991 The criticism centers on three aspects of the play the love friendship debate Imagining Criminology Franklin P. Williams, 1999 First Published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Postmodern Criminology Dragan Milovanovic, 1997 This collection of essays and reviews represents the most significant and comprehensive writing on Shakespeare's A Comedy of Errors Miola's edited work also features a comprehensive critical history coupled with a full bibliography and photographs of major productions of the play from around the world In the collection there are five previously unpublished essays The topics covered in these new essays are women in the play the play's debt to contemporary theater its critical and performance histories in Germany and Japan the metrical variety of the play and the distinctly modern perspective on the play as containing dark and disturbing elements To compliment these new essays the collection features significant scholarship and commentary on The Comedy of Errors that is published in obscure and difficult accessible journals newspapers and other sources This collection brings together these essays for the first time
