Abolition Democracy Angela Y. Davis, 2011-01-04 Revelations about U S policies and practices of torture and abuse have captured headlines ever since the breaking of the Abu Ghraib prison story in April 2004 Since then a debate has raged regarding what is and what is not acceptable behavior for the world s leading democracy It is within this context that Angela Davis one of America s most remarkable political figures gave a series of interviews to discuss resistance and law institutional sexual coercion politics and prison Davis talks about her own incarceration as well as her experiences as enemy of the state and about having been put on the FBI s most wanted list She talks about the crucial role that international activism played in her case and the case of many other political prisoners Throughout these interviews Davis returns to her critique of a democracy that has been compromised by its racist origins and institutions Discussing the most recent disclosures about the disavowed chain of command and the formal reports by the Red Cross and Human Rights Watch denouncing U S violation of human rights and the laws of war in Guant namo Afghanistan and Iraq Davis focuses on the underpinnings of prison regimes in the United States Abolition Democracy Angela Yvonne Davis, 2005 Minding the Marginalized Students Through Inclusion, Justice, and Hope Jose W. Lalas, Heidi Luv Strikwerda, 2021-07-26 While the issue of advancing equity occupies the pages of many education journals across the world and pursuing it in schools and classrooms is a common instructional goal there is an obvious absence of established school policies combined with pedagogies on how to achieve educational equity Theology in the Mode of Monk: An Aesthetics of Barth and Cone on Revelation and Freedom, Volume 3 Raymond Carr, 2024-11-19 This captivating study engages two of the most influential theologians of the twentieth century Karl Barth the Swiss Protestant theologian who constructed his theology from above and engaged the powers in the background of Nazi Germany and James H Cone the father of Black Theology in America who constructed his theology from below and confronted white racism the most intractable issue in America s history In this three volume project Carr employs the aesthetic thinking of the jazz legend Thelonious Monk to reconceptualize restructure and advance the theologies of Barth and Cone In this final volume Carr appeals to Thelonious Monk s tune Misterioso as the analogical framework for exploring the freedom of God as the melodic foundation for black liberation Monk s mode of musical thinking encourages the jazz artist in us all to play in the mystery of God s freedom as the true ground for living freely within the world of the principalities and powers Specters of Revolt Richard Gilman-Opalsky, 2016-11-15 In 1848 Karl Marx declared that a communist specter was haunting Europe In 1994 Jacques Derrida considered how the spectre of Marx would haunt the post Cold War world In Specters of Revolt Gilman Opalsky argues that the world is haunted by revolt by the possibility of events that interrupt and disrupt the world that throw its reality and justice into question But recent revolt is neither decisively communist nor decisively Marxist Gilman Opalsky develops a theory of revolt that accounts for its diverse critical content about autonomy everyday life anxiety experience knowledge and possibility The 1994 uprising of the

Mexican Zapatistas set the stage for new forms of revolt against a newly expanded power of capital In the 20 years since including the recent phase of global uprisings that began in 2008 with the Greek revolts insurrection has spoken in the Arab Spring in Spain Turkey Brazil and in the U S in Occupy Wall Street Ferguson and Baltimore among other places In light of recent global uprisings Gilman Opalsky aims to move beyond the critical theory of revolt to an understanding of revolt as theory itself Making use of diverse sources from Raoul Vaneigem and Félix Guattari to Julia Kristeva and Raya Dunayevskaya Spectres of Revolt explores upheaval as thinking the intellect of insurrection and philosophy from below

Education and Incarceration Erica R. Meiners, Maisha T. Winn, 2014-07-16 The United States of America is in possession of the largest prison population in the world with 2.3 million people currently behind bars This number is predominantly and disproportionately made up of communities of colour and poverty Between 1987 and 2007 the U S prison population tripled the direct result of various tough on crime public policies Organizers and scholars use the term prison industrial complex PIC to name the structure that encompasses the expanding economic and political contexts of the detention and corrections industry in the USA The PIC is a network that sutures capital communities and the State to a permanent punishment economy The term the PIC aims to capture the range of material and ideological forces that shape the growth of detention the political and lobbying power of the corrections officers unions the framing of prisons and jails as a growth industry in the context of deindustrialization the production and sales of technology and security required to maintain and expand the state of incarceration and the naturalization of isolation as a logical response to harm Education and Incarceration highlights the significance of centering agency and autonomy and documents scholars who work to be accountable to justice movements and communities not simply to academic disciplines or to research Additionally as emerging scholars committed to challenging the PIC these authors struggle to build multi layered analytic and material tools for resistance within and beyond the walls of schools jails and prisons This book provides snapshots of practices in motion activist scholars working to engage to be accountable to families communities and larger justice movements and to build abolition democracies This book was originally published as a special issue of Race Ethnicity and Education

Living West as Feminists Krista Comer, 2024-11 In the aftermath of the 2020 U S presidential election Krista Comer invited fifteen colleagues into a conversation about feminism and the U S West From her travels over some thirteen thousand miles to places chosen by participants comes a remarkable series of dialogues focusing on questions about the where of us the places that we love or belong or don't belong and who we are in them Living West as Feminists moves from travelogue to interviews to critical meditations It asks who one's people are to whom one feels accountable and how we might make peace with the itinerant often displaced lives of late stage capitalist culture Ultimately the book understands feminism not as a specific politics or set of theories but as a network of relations Its coalitional perspective allows for coming together even while distinguishing feminists who write from Black Indigenous queer Chicanx and materialist perspectives Feminist rest areas in which relational securities find footing can create the most priceless resource in desperate times well being and political hope Theorizing Race in the Americas Juliet Hooker, 2017 Four prominent nineteenth and twentieth century U S African American and Latin American intellectuals Frederick Douglass and Domingo F Sarmiento and W E B Du Bois and Jos Vasconcelos have never been read alongside each other Although these thinkers addressed key political and philosophical issues in the Americas political theorists have yet to compare their ideas about race By juxtaposing these thinkers Theorizing Race in the Americas takes up the opportunity to bring African American and Latin American political thought into conversation and in turn maps a genealogy of racial theory throughout the hemisphere A World Without Cages Sharry Aiken, Stephanie J. Silverman, 2022-04-19 This book is the first collection to bring together scholars and activists working to end criminal and immigration detention Employing an intersectional lens and an impressive variety of case studies the book makes a compelling case to rethink what justice could mean for refugees citizens and everyone in between The book connects immigration detention and prison justice towards reimagining a newer better future The ten chapters probe the intersections of immigration detention with current and potential forms of citizenship membership belonging and punishments Deprivation of liberty is one of the most serious harms that someone can experience Immigration control is a nation building project where racial gender class ableist and other lines of discrimination filter and police access to permanent residence Employing a kaleidoscope of interdisciplinary backgrounds the contributors bring this focus to bear on case studies spanning North America Europe and Asia In conversation with social movements challenging police brutality the contributors are thinking through the implications of defunding the police overhauling the criminal justice system eradicating prisons penal abolitionism and ending all forms of containment carceral abolitionism Neither the prison nor the detention centre is an inevitable feature of our social lives This book collectively argues that abolishing detention could pave the way for new visions of justice to emerge The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies In an Abusive State Kristin Bumiller, 2008-04-25 A powerful argument that the feminist campaign to address sexual violence has evolved into a problematic alliance with the neoliberal state
