Albrecht Altdorfer And The Origins Of Landscape Revised And Expanded Second Edition:

Albrecht Altdorfer and the Origins of Landscape Christopher S. Wood, Albrecht Altdorfer, 1993-12 Altdorfer's landscapes offer a densely textured interpretation of that quintessentially German place the forest interior As Wood explains however these scenes far from doctrinally innocent the forest that Altdorfer painted drew and etched is both a refuge from Christian rites and a mythical setting of idolatry In producing his landscapes Altdorfer flaunted and exaggerated the formal principles of a regional pictorial tradition Wood demonstrates that the abrasive surface effects incessant ornamental movement and structural impenetrability of these pictures make them the incunabula of a self resistance to literal readings Altdorfer's landscapes also resemble the exactly contemporary pastorals and allegories of Giovanni Bellini Lorenzo Lotto and Giorgione Because of Altdorfer's influence on the next generation of German and Netherlandish artists his work forms a crucial link between Northern religious imagery and the modern development of landscape of a genre Albrecht

Altdorfer and the Origins of Landscape Christopher S. offers a rare and innovative consideration of an enduring tendency in postwar art to explore places devoid of human agents in the wake of violent encounters To see the scenery together with the crime elicits a double interrogation not merely of a physical site but also of its formation as an aesthetic artefact and ultimately of our own acts of looking and imagining Closely engaging with a vast array of works made by artists filmmakers and photographers each who has forged a distinct vantage point on the aftermath of crime and conflict the study selectively maps the afterlife of landscape in search of the political and ethical agency of the image By way of a thoroughly interdisciplinary approach Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography brings landscape studies into close dialogue with contemporary theory by paying sustained attention to how the gesture of retracing past events facilitates new configurations of the present and future Play Among Books Miro

Roman, Alice_ch3n81, 2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science The Illustrated London News ,1880 Albrecht Altdorfer and the Origins of Landscape Christopher S.
