The Disruptors Dennis R. Shelden, 2020-06-08 Technology driven disruption and entrepreneurial response have become profound drivers of change in modern culture Wholly new organisations have rapidly emerged in many fields including retail print media and transportation often dramatically altering both the products and processes that define these industries Architecture has until now been minimally impacted by this technologically driven upheaval But there are many signs that this period of tranquillity is ending Startups are proliferating targeting diverse innovations from environmental performance to large scale 3D printing Traditional architecture and engineering firms are creating incubators and spin offs to capitalise on their innovations Large and innovative organisations from outside the professions are becoming interested in the built environment as the next platform for technological and economic disruption These new directions for the discipline will potentially create radically new types of practice new building typologies and new ways for both design professionals and societies to engage with the built environment It is crucial that architectural discourse addresses these possibilities and begins to embrace technology driven entrepreneurship as a central theme for the future of architectural practice Contributors Sandeep Ahuja Ben van Berkel Phil Bernstein Helen Castle James Cramer and Scott Simpson Craig Curtis David performance quality productivity have emerged as key reasons for outsourcing work to India Work-Life Balance in Architecture Igea Troiani,2024-03-04 This book seeks to improve the work lives of architects of diverse demographics who do not fit or want to replicate the traditional 24 7 white male architect lifestyle Aimed at a workforce whose life and career expectations have changed drastically in recent years it helps readers of different generations to make informed choices about their careers enabling students educators and professionals to prioritise wellbeing and offer their design and practice voice to enhance a built environment for all Work Life Balance in Architecture examines what it means to play the game of architecture to choose to study and pursue a career in architecture rather than another profession The book shows the economic social and professional structures within which architectural education and practice operate and reveals the impact of a corporate neoliberal big business mentality on wellbeing After setting out the context exacerbating work life imbalance the book discusses the paths an architect may take whether this leads to a career in practice or not in architecture at all and how alternative gameplay moves can advantage or disadvantage those of different gender class ethnicity race or age at different career stages It concludes by examining how the places in which an architect works the time available to work and critiques of perpetual neoliberal economic growth can enhance the lives of all architects today New Practices ecosystem could emerge from the static frame of a system approach The five chapters in this volume precisely aim at adding to this literature by highlighting the interplay between different types of innovation systems A common thread among the five chapters of the book is the recognition of the need to develop new lenses to formally account for adaptative behaviour within clusters networks or regional innovation systems using the ecosystem metaphor The diversity and heterogeneity of agents the complexity of relationships and new forms of organisation underground middleground and upperground are the main characteristics of innovation ecosystems in contrast to more traditional concepts like clusters or networks In essence the five chapters add various complexity dimensions relationships knowledge systems etc to the existing knowledge on ecosystems The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Industry and Innovation Architecture of Instruction and Delight Pieter van Wesemael,2001 Innovation Mechanisms in Start-ups Varun Gupta,2022-12-08 Innovation Mechanisms in Start ups Practice Strategies and Impacts serves as a practical resource for startups looking for innovating their business models in domestic and global markets This book s main objective is to describe the innovative business practices adopted by startups during the pandemic with a special emphasis on value proposition innovation and business model innovation more generally In order to promote open innovation this book emphasizes the value of strategic alliances with academic libraries peer startups and freelancers Additionally using actual startup case studies it was shown how important technological innovation is for gathering feedback prototyping and conducting both secondary as well as primary market research Startups can utilize the technology evaluation and adoption frameworks as a useful reference when choosing a technology to embrace strategically The need of regularly experimenting with new approaches learning from mistakes and enhancing current processes is also emphasized in this book The ability to dispel falsehoods capitalize on technological advancements and form strategic alliances will be essential for innovation even in times of pandemic This book links theoretical insights with practical experiences of startups amid the pandemic With a perfect balance of empirical research and assessment study types this book is a source of quick knowledge for entrepreneurs academics and researchers on how to enhance a company s innovative capacities and success rates The BMI Pandemic 2 15 model which is an expanded version of the Odyssey 3 14 model is presented in this book which highlight 15 guidelines to follow in order to innovate business models in pandemics This book is suitable for Entrepreneurs Academicians Researcher and Technologists
