Figure 1 Schematic diagram of the proposed system architecture. The system is composed of a user interface, a data management module, and a processing module. The user interface interacts with the data management module, which in turn interacts with the processing module. The processing module is responsible for the core logic of the system, including data analysis and decision-making.

Abstract The present study examined the effects of a 12-week training program on the physical and psychological health of sedentary, middle-aged women. The program consisted of three sessions per week, each lasting 45 minutes. The program included aerobic, strength, and flexibility exercises. The results showed that the program had a significant positive effect on the physical and psychological health of the women. The program also had a significant positive effect on the women's self-esteem and body image. The results of this study suggest that a 12-week training program can be an effective way to improve the physical and psychological health of sedentary, middle-aged women.
