Under the Bus Caroline Fredrickson,2010-01-12 Did you think you knew the facts about women and work Think again a terrific book utterly gripping Peter Edelman author of So Rich So Poor For women in professional and corporate jobs much of the discrimination and inequity faced in the past has been confronted and at least to some extent conquered But the fact is that we have a two tiered system where some working women have a full panoply of rights while others have few or none at all We allow blatant discrimination by small employers Domestic workers are cut out of our wage and overtime laws Part time workers disproportionately women are denied basic benefits Laws have been written through a process of compromise and negotiation and in each case vulnerable workers were the bargaining chip that was sacrificed to guarantee the policy s enactment For these workers the system that was supposed to act as a safety net has become a sieve and they are still falling through Caroline Fredrickson is a powerful advocate and DC insider who has witnessed the legislative compromises that leave out temps farmworkers staff at small businesses immigrants and others who fall outside an intentionally narrow definition of employees The women in this fast growing part of the workforce are denied minimum wage maternity leave health care the right to unionize and protection from harassment and discrimination all within the bounds of the law If current trends continue their fate will be the future of all American workers An informative occasionally shocking exploration of the state of women s rights in the workplace Kirkus Reviews An Examination of the Administration's Overtime Rule and the Rising Costs of Doing Business United States. and Statistics offers a collection of resources for mathematics faculty interested in incorporating questions of social justice into their classrooms. The book comprises seventeen classroom tested modules featuring ready to use activities and investigations for college mathematics and statistics courses. The modules empower students to study issues of social justice and to see the power and limitations of mathematics in real world contexts of deep concern. The primary focus is on classroom activities where students can ask their own questions, find and analyze real data, apply mathematical ideas themselves, and draw their own conclusions. Module topics in the book focus on technical content that could support courses in quantitative reasoning or introductory statistics. Social themes include electoral issues, environmental justice, equity, inequity, human rights, and racial justice, including topics such as gentrification, partisan gerrymandering, policing, and more. The volume editors are leaders of the national movement to include social justice material in mathematics teaching and jointly edited the earlier AMS/MAA volume Mathematics for Social Justice: Resources for the College Classroom. Gizem Karaali is Professor of Mathematics at Pomona College. She is a past chair of the Special Interest Group of the MAA on Quantitative Literacy (SIGMAA QL). She is one of the founding editors of The Journal of Humanistic Mathematics, senior editor of Numeracy, and an associate editor for The Mathematical Intelligencer; she also serves on the editorial board of the MAA's Classroom Resource Materials series. Lily Khadjavi is Professor and Chair of Mathematics at Loyola Marymount University and is a past co-chair of the Infinite Possibilities Conference. In 2020 she was appointed by the California State Attorney General to the Racial and Identity Profiling Act Board, which works with the California Department of Justice. She currently serves on the editorial board of the MAA's Spectrum series and the Human Resources Advisory Committee for the Mathematical Sciences Research Institute in Berkeley.
