Blue Moon Drive In Theater:

The Moviegoing Experience, 1968-2001 Richard W. Haines, 2010-06-28 The experience of going to the movies be it a single screen theater twin multiplex or drive in is affected by many different factors that have shifted over the years Just as movies emerged from silent to talking black and white to color there has invariably been change in the way movies are made copied distributed and viewed This change in the moviegoing experience for better or for worse is worth studying This work examines the American moviegoing experience from 1968 to 2001 the way in which movies are made and regulated including the demise of the Production Code and the emergence of the ratings system as well as changes in lighting cinematography and coloring techniques The projection practices of the past and present during and after the presence of the Projectionists Union and the advent of the platter which allowed for automated projection are discussed How home video and cable affected the content of films after the eighties and the history of computerized special effects leading to the development of digital cinema projection are included The work also covers the changing types of venues over the last third of a century and other aspects that affect positively or negatively the entire moviegoing experience Blue Moon Haven Janet

Alabama Noir Don Noble,2025-07-01 Alabama joins Mississippi as fertile Deep South soil for the Noir Series Banish any boredom with a descent into Alabama Noir Southern Review of Books Akashic Books continues its award winning series of original noir anthologies launched in 2004 with Brooklyn Noir Each book comprises all new stories each one set in a distinct location within the geographic area of the book Brand new stories by Ace Atkins Tom Franklin Anita Miller Garner Suzanne Hudson Kirk Curnutt Wendy Reed Carolyn Haines Anthony Grooms Michelle Richmond Winston Groom Ravi Howard Thom Gossom Jr Brad Watson Daniel Wallace D Winston Brown and Marlin Barton From the introduction by Don Noble Some locales seem to come with their own soundtrack Don Ho and his tiny bubbles provide the background music for Hawaii Edith Piaf for Paris The reggae of Bob Marley evokes Jamaica The soundtrack for Alabama is without question provided by our troubled troubadour Hank Williams The 2016 biography Hank by Mark Ribowsky paints a dark picture of the musician's short alcoholic drug filled life a life of loneliness and pain He goes so far as to call Hank's life story noir-ish In Alabama Noir we encounter troubles and foibles galore darkness in many forms The stories range from the deadly grim to some that are actually mildly humorous We see desperate behavior on the banks of the Tennessee River in the neighborhoods of Birmingham in the affluent suburbs of Mobile in a cemetery in Montgomery and even on the deceptively pleasant beaches of the Gulf of Mexico Fans of noir should all find something to enjoy

We All Wrote on the Same Outhouse Walls Larry M. Farrar, 2003 We All Wrote on the Same Outhouse Walls is a warm hearted very humorous book about the many joys and few sorrows of growing up during the 40s and 50s in a small town exiled in the Appalachian foothills The book is about the author's small hometown which The Wall Street Journal described as Intact but decaying pure 19th Century The Journal suggested that the town could be On the scale of Williamsburg but the town folks Don't want to be preserved saved or otherwise bothered by outsiders no matter how good their intentions This priceless narrative tells about first grade in a one room schoolhouse called Possum Hollow a splendid misspent youth and a homespun education which was acquired while working in a country store and hanging out in a poolroom The hilarious description of an endangered time and place is about colorful and unforgettable characters It tells memorable stories and folklore which began with I mind the time and ended somewhat in borderline disbelief but always in laughter It's about nicknames front porches and coon dog field trials after church And it's about the down home wit sayings and opinions that made the personalities and their town so engaging The book also tells what the old timers the orthopedic set would tell you whether asked or not about the 60s movement the break up of the traditional family the present day media and the theory of victimization Their opinions today would be unfashionable to some but refreshingly politically inappropriate to others Not that the author's small hometown was perfect or blameless The good old fashioned behavior by some of getting drunk on Saturday night and going to church on Sunday was alive and well The town has its assortment of saints and sinners But when it came to values and time honored beliefs which now seem out dated back then small towns had them maybe that's what one of John Steinbeck's characters in Mice and Men pointed out when the character commented There's nothing wrong anymore We All Wrote on the Same Outhouse Walls is a must read for all of you who will enjoy a nostalgic visit back to your youth or your small hometown It will bring back happy memories of a better time and make you glad that you were there The book is also a must read for young readers who wonder what it was really like and if they really were the good old days Most of all the book is for those of you who just want a good laugh
