Aurality Listening And Knowledge In Nineteenth Century Colombia Sign Storage Transmission:

Aurality Ana María Ochoa Gautier, 2015-02-20 In this audacious book Ana María Ochoa Gautier explores how listening has been central to the production of notions of language music voice and sound that determine the politics of life Drawing primarily from nineteenth century Colombian sources Ochoa Gautier locates sounds produced by different living entities at the juncture of the human and nonhuman Her acoustically tuned analysis of a wide array of texts reveals multiple debates on the nature of the aural These discussions were central to a politics of the voice harnessed in the service of the production of different notions of personhood and belonging In Ochoa Gautier's groundbreaking work Latin America and the Caribbean emerge as a historical site where the politics of life and the politics of expression inextricably entangle the musical and the linguistic knowledge and the sensorial

A Resonant Ecology Max Ritts, 2024-08-30 In A Resonant Ecology Max Ritts traces how sound's integration into the environmental politics of Canada's North Coast has paved the way for massive industrial expansion While conservationists hope that the dissemination of whale songs and other nature sounds will showcase the beauty of local wildlife for people around the world Ritts reveals how colonial capitalism can co-opt sonic efforts to protect the coast He demonstrates how digital technologies allow industry to sonically map new shipping lanes and facilitate new ways of experiencing sound premised not on listening but on sound's exploitable status as a data resource By outlining how sound can both perpetuate and refuse capitalist colonialism Ritts challenges the idea that the sonic realm is inherently liberatory and reveals sound to be a powerfully uncertain object Through a situated geographical approach he makes the case that only a decolonial and multigenerational environmental politics can counter the false promise of sustainable marine development held up by industry and the state

Music Theory in Ethnomusicology Stephen Blum, 2023-04-28 Music Theory in Ethnomusicology outlines a conception of music theory suited to cross cultural research on musical practices assessing the extent to which musical terminologies of diverse languages can be interpreted in relation to general concepts without imposing the assumptions and biases of one body of existing theory

The Routledge Companion to Radio and Podcast Studies Mia Lindgren, Jason Loviglio, 2022-06-15 This comprehensive companion is a much needed reference source for the expanding field of radio audio and podcast study taking readers through a diverse range of essays examining the core questions and key debates surrounding radio practices technologies industries policies resources histories and relationships with audiences Drawing together original essays from well established and emerging scholars to conceptualize this multidisciplinary field this book's global perspective acknowledges radio's enduring affinity with the local historical relationship to the national and its unpredictably transnational reach In its capacious understanding of what constitutes radio this collection also recognizes the latent time and space shifting possibilities of radio broadcasting and of the myriad ways for audio to come to us live Chapters on terrestrial radio mingle with studies of podcasts and streaming audio emphasizing continuities and innovations in form and content delivery and reception production cultures and aesthetics reminding us that neither radio nor podcasting should be approached as static objects of analysis but rather as mutually constituting cultural forms This cutting edge and vibrant companion provides a rich resource for scholars and students of history art theory industry studies journalism media and communication cultural studies feminist analysis and postcolonial studies Chapter 42 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
